136 Years

- 1792 The firm of Benziger Brothers was founded in Einsiedeln, Switzerland, by Joseph Charles Benziger (d. 1841), whose biographical sketch may be found on page 484, vol. 2, of the Catholic Encyclopedia. The Catholic town of Einsiedeln, one of the world's most famous places of pilgrimage, dates back to 861, where the Benziger family dates back to 1504.
- 1833 Joseph Charles was succeeded by his sons Charles (d. 1873) and Nicholas Benziger (d. 1864).
- 1853 The New York house was founded, and J. N. Adelrich Benziger (d. 1878), a son of Charles, and Louis (d. 1896), a son of Nicholas took charge of the New York house, which is now the American firm and entirely independent of its parent house in Switzerland.
- 1860 A house is opened in Cincinnati, Ohio.
- 1880 Nicholas C. Benziger (d. 1925) becomes a partner. His father Nicholas (d. 1908), was a partner in Einsiedeln, and was the son of Nicholas mentioned above.
- 1887 A house is opened in Chicago, Ill.
- 1894 Completion of new Studios and Works in Brooklyn, N. Y., for the manufacture of Church Goods, Vestments and Religious Articles on a large scale, and the production of their numerous publications and prayer-books.
- 1894 Louis G. Benziger, son of Louis, becomes a partner. He retired in 1914.
- 1912 Xavier N. Benziger, son of Nicholas C., becomes a partner.
- 1919 Bernard A. Benziger, son of Nicholas C., becomes a partner.
- 1923 Alfred F. Benziger, son of Nicholas C., becomes a partner.
- 1924 Installation in Brooklyn Factory of complete up-to-date printing plant.
- 1926 New England plant opened in Bridgeport, Conn.
- 1928 The present partners of the firm, the three brothers, Xavier N. Benziger, Bernard A. Benziger and Alfred F. Benziger, are the great-great-grandsons of the founder of this firm.

STUDIO AND WORKS, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

In New York, Chicago, and Cincinnati, Benziger Brothers have the most complete stores of their kind, combining various departments, each highly developed, and specializing and preserving distinct individuality, thus insuring attention to every detail. Hence, the Religious Articles Department is a store in itself, the Book Department a complete Catholic Bookshop, and the Church Goods Department capable of outfitting a church. Ample stockrooms on the premises allow speedy delivery of any size order.

The lowest current price at date of receipt of order is the price charged by us, even though it may be advertised higher in this catalogue, which is necessarily subject to change without notice, due to fluctuations, and was as correct as possible when the catalogue was printed. We have but one price to all the Reverend Clergy and Religious, and it is always kept as low as possible, and the quality of the goods kept up to the best standards.

MARBLE ALTARS Special designs and prices gladly given. Write us when contemplating the purchase of Altars which we import from our Marble Studios in Carrara, Italy.

If you cannot favor us with a personal call, take advantage of our Mail Order Department, or one of our representatives will gladly call on you. This catalogue gives you true illustrations, descriptions and prices. Samples, photographs, ORDERS and even the goods themselves are sent to you free for selection. Speed and accuracy are our watchwords. A trained corps and splendid large stocks of merchandise guarantee your satisfaction. Goods are returnable if not satisfactory. You take no risk with us—why not try it to-day? A postcard to our nearest house will do.

YOUR VISIT When visiting our stores we assure you of a courteous reception by a staff of Catholic salesmen who are especially selected and trained.

THE SILENT SENTINEL

THERE is very little evidence that any strictly Liturgical use was made of lamps in the early centuries of Christianity. But it is remarkable that in all the earliest representations of "The Last Supper" a lamp is shown extended from the ceiling over the table. It may, therefore, be inferred that the early Christians attached some kind of Liturgical significance to the lighting of lamps during the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice. The practice of burning a light continually before the Blessed Sacrament may have been observed here and there prior to the 12th century, but it was only about this time that it became general. In the 16th century, however, the maintenance of a light wherever the Blessed Sacrament was reserved became a matter of strict obligation (Cfr. Fr. Thurston, S. J., Lamps, Vol. VIII, Catholic Encycl.).

The "Rituale Romanum" (Tit. IV., 6) states that many lamps or at least one should burn before the Tabernacle perpetually. If there is more than one lamp the requirement according to the "Caeremoniale Episcoporum" (Lib. 1, Cap. XII, No. 17) demands an unequal number, like three or five, etc.

Liturgical regulations make no mention of the kind of material to be used in the construction of a Sanctuary Lamp. Nevertheless, its prominence and usually central position in the Sanctuary (Lamps may also be hung from a metal bracket on the side walls of the Sanctuary provided they be not behind the tabernacle. S. C. Rit., June 2, 1883) in close proximity to the "Holy of Holies" seems to demand the most careful thought in the selection when choosing designs and materials, so that its fashioning may not only safeguard its permanency and stability, as well as meet the requirements of the Canons of Church Art, but that it may also possess that majestic and inspiring dignity worthy of its exalted calling as "the silent sentinel keeping perpetual vigil before the Tabernacle."

These essentials are character marks of the productions emanating from Benziger Brothers Studios.

APPROVED RUBRICAL LUNAS

OUR RUBRICAL LUNA NO. 740 USED IN OUR CHEAP AND MEDIUM PRICED OSTENSORIA AND INCLUDED IN PRICE.

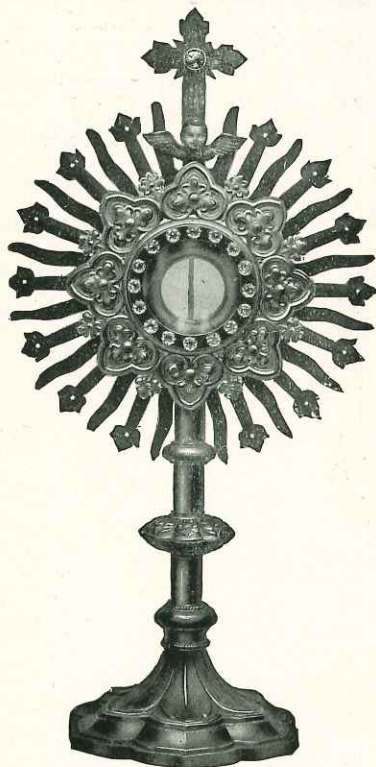

This Luna conforms in every way to the rubrics. The inner rims of sterling silver, shown in second illustration, hold the consecrated host, are one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness and one-quarter of an inch in width, which prevent the host from coming in contact with the crystal lens of the Luna. When closed the Luna is securely locked.

This Luna is substantially made of sterling silver, heavily gold plated, and can be had for a host of any size from 2½ inches in diameter to 3½ inches in diameter. The lenses are of plate glass, beveled edge. The slide can be made to fit any shape or size of slide in the ostensorium receptacle.

THE FINEST WORK IN HAND GOLD EMBROIDERY

No. 5096

ARTISTIC RELIEF AND FLAT GOLD EMBROIDERY

This set of vestments is considered one of the finest examples of hand gold embroidery. The gold threads are of different thicknesses and finish. The impressive effect of the embroidery is especially brought out by the different gold threads: the flat gold lamé threads set off the high points of the embroidery, while different other finishes of gold thread are carefully worked into other parts of the design.

Artistic embroidery of this kind shows up to particular advantage on fine gold cloth moire. This moire is worked of fine silk with strands of fine gold lamé thread in close repeat. The strength of the material and the beautiful finish of the fabric forms an ideal foundation for the gold embroidery.

We will gladly send photographs and samples of vestments upon request.

CREFELD HAND WOVEN VESTMENTS

IMPORTED FREE OF DUTY

No. 5113

Of silk velvet brocade, with a silk velvet brocade cross. A most impressive and good-wearing vestment; silk cord border; durable, light quality, sateen lining.

ABOUT PRICES

There are so many different qualities of the various materials that can be used in making up these fine vestments that we refrain from quoting prices without showing you samples of the various qualities which can be seen at our stores or one of our representatives will gladly call on you with samples and prices for your selection.

HAND-WOVEN SILKS MAKE LONG-LASTING VESTMENTS

Hand-woven silks, dyed in the yarn, do not show any defects. It runs absolutely uniform and is tightly woven, giving the vestment more body; yet allows it to fall into graceful folds, light in weight, considering the fine quality.

BROCADE

Brocades are fabrics showing the design or pattern on but one side, and whose quality and durability depends on a strong, close woven foundation.

Our gold brocades are woven the same as the silk brocade. The quality is judged by the quality of gold thread used and the strength of the foundation. Our gold thread is the so-called Japanese gold thread, which is not a metal thread and does not oxidize or tarnish as a metal thread would.

Velvet brocade is about the richest, most intricate and impressive material; the quality is all silk, and it will last and wear far better than the plain silk velvet.

No. 5111

There are very few vestments that will show up the cross clearer and more impressive than a gold or gold-and-silk hand-woven cross on a velvet brocade ground fabric.

Holy Water Receptacle with Stand.

An article which every Catholic Church should have

This receptacle is made of "Fibrotta," the basic part of which is wood pulp. It is in one piece, entirely seamless, and does not require hoops, consequently there is nothing to drop or rust off. It does not leak, water-soak, or rust, has no paint or varnish to wear off, does not require paint or varnish to preserve it. It is impervious to climate changes, acids, or alkalis. Having a highly polished surface of the appearance of mahogany, it will not show dirt.

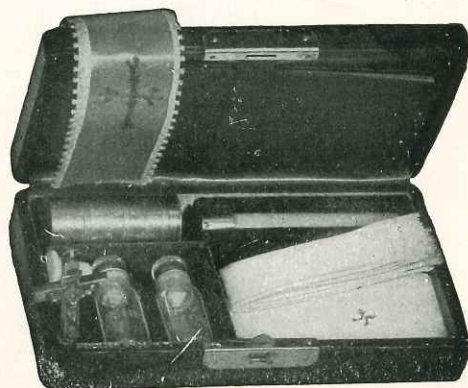

Capacity 3 gallons, complete with stand,	$12.00

Cast Iron and Terra Cotta Statues Imported Free of Duty

The same Statues are made in Cast Iron and in Terra Cotta. Cast Iron is most desirable for outside use, because not affected by exposure. The Terra Cotta, because made of clay baked in the oven, is most desirable for interior use in moist climates as not affected by dampness; however, we cannot guarantee for outside use.

OIL PAINTED STATIONS OF THE CROSS

RICH IN COLORING

After—Professor Martin Feuerstein—of the Royal Bavarian Art Academy of Munich

The grandeur of the perspectives and natural designs stand out in bold relief; these stations are unanimously admired by all critics of art. An unusual charm pervades each. Genuine feeling without artificiality or dramatic mimicry lives in the creations of Feuerstein, which also conceal within, a large historical lineament.

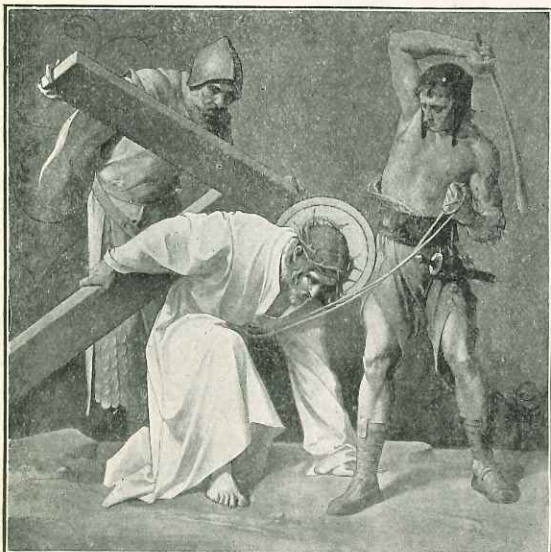

The bloody side of the passion is no more rendered prominent. The human element of suffering is granted no more freedom than is compatible with the reverence of the scene; throughout all, a praiseworthy emulation governs, not allowing ghastly and bloody depictions, but, foremost the inner beauty and grandeur of the passion; the veiled but not obliterated tenor of the mildness and glory of the suffering Man-God.

A MONUMENTAL RENDITION

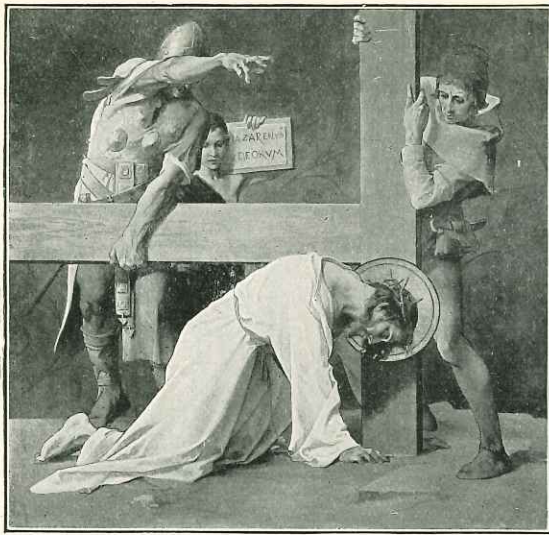

The personality of Christ concentrates each part, and holds the interest of the spectator. Such presentation is extremely difficult since Christ must not only be depicted as an ideal-man . . . but ONE, from whose personality radiates the GOD-HEAD. A powerful description is given to the emotions as a mental support; a genuine piety, a foundation so deeply religious that an irresistible desire compels us to pray. Considered from the standpoint of art, the compositions forcibly express the gravity of the architect; nowhere do we find unnatural emotions, conventional immobility or mechanical imitations or traditional types.

FATHER LASANCE'S PRAYERBOOKS

THE MOST POPULAR PRAYER-BOOK
IN ENGLISH

MY PRAYER-BOOK HAPPINESS IN GOODNESS

Reflections, Counsels, Prayers, and Devotions. Contains also
Marriage-Mass and many Special Prayers

BY

REV. F. X. LASANCE

702 pages. 16mo. Size, 5½ x 4 inches.

The reflections preceding the prayers in this book so attune the mind and heart that the prayers would seem but a natural out-pouring of the soul to God. The counsels are so very homely that they stimulate to what is practical. This prayer-book, while filling the needs of all, will undoubtedly appeal to many who, perhaps, have not the time nor inclination to soar in the clouds, but who, being struck by some commonplace which particularly comes home to them, will be tempted to read further and become better acquainted with the wisely chosen and beautiful prayers and devotions which fill more than half the book.

FOR YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

THE CATHOLIC GIRL'S GUIDE

(No. 134)

Oblong 16mo. Size, 5½ x 3¾ inches. An especially handy and convenient size. The book is intended for girls from the time of their leaving school to their settlement in life. The instructions on the two great Commandments, love of God and love of our neighbor, are most clear, practical, and persuasive, being detailed into the faith and piety, the purity, charity, obedience, love of labor, and honor and truthfulness which beseeem virtuous youth, and practiced at that time, become, as a rule, the habit of all one's life.

THE FOLLOWING OF CHRIST

(No. 75)

By THOMAS A. KEMPIS

In Four Books.

Translated from the Original Latin by the Right Rev. Richard Challoner.

With Practical Reflections and Prayers, Devotions for Mass, etc.

No. 75-3015G

After the Gospels, no book is so universally known and loved as this little volume—not by Catholics only, but by spiritual-minded men and women outside of the Fold. It would be a work of supererogation to say anything in praise of a work that has retained for centuries its hold on the learned and simple, and is to be found in every language. The present edition is clearly printed on good paper, and well bound. After each chapter there are practical reflections and prayers, and at the end of the volume there is an appendix containing Morning and Evening Prayers, Devotions for Mass, and Prayers for Confession and Communion.

192 pages; small 48mo.; size, 2 1/2 x 3 3/4 inches.

Another one of our line of most popular Prayer-books distinctive for their unequalled contents, and so greatly favored both by Catholic teachers and children. In accordance with the Decree-
"Quam Singulari," the book contains not only Instructions and Prayers for Confession and Holy Communion, but also the First Communion Day Prayers. The usual collection of Special Devotions is likewise included. It is embellished with handsome full-page engravings, illustrating the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and the Way of the Cross.

LITURGICAL BOOKS FOR BISHOPS, PRIESTS AND RELIGIOUS

IN the Missale Romanum, our line is equally rich, embracing as it does 7 different sizes from the small folio (13 x 10 inches) with bold black type down to the 24 mo. ($5\frac{3}{4}$ x $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches) used by the layman or seminary student. All are well printed, durably bound and available at all prices, from plain black morocco styles with blind stamping to ornate, polished red levant. Requiem Missals are included in large assortment.

We have all sorts of Rituals, Excerpts in small pocket sizes, large editions for the sacristy, and complete Rituals with all the Sacramental rites and blessings for various occasions. In all these books completeness of text and clearness of type are outstanding features, made doubly attractive by their low prices.

Special books for Bishops, The Pontifical, The Canon of the Mass, Epistles and Gospels, The Rite of Confirmation, are fully equal in dignity of binding and style required for their purpose.

Office Books in various sizes and bindings offer Nuns a wide range for selection.

Last of all will be found available as perfect and complete a line of Church Record Books as can be made, Registers of Baptisms and Marriages, Burials, First Communion, Confirmations, Census Books, Pew Rent Receipts, etc. We specialize in durable, dignified bindings for this class of frequently handled books.

It is a source of pride to us that nowhere in this country will be found so complete a line, such variety of sizes and bindings as our department of Liturgical Books offers.

Special information concerning Liturgical Books may be had upon request.

We have the Breviaries which each priest prefers, whether it is the 48mo. Vest Pocket size for the traveller, or the 12mo. with special large type for those who find it possible to recite the entire office at home. Medium sized editions, combining the advantages of both extremes are available in large variety.

All these breviaries are printed upon India paper which allows the largest type in the smallest bulk and all are well and tastefully bound. The prices are not the least attractive features, being lower than those of other editions.

MECHLIN AND TOURS BREVIARIES

ADVANTAGES OF BUYING YOUR BREVIARIES AT BENZIGER BROTHERS. The arrangement of texts in both the Mechlin and Tours editions leaves nothing to be desired. In our long years of experience in handling these Breviaries as the American Agents for the firms of H. Dessain, Malines and A. Mame & Fils, Tours, we have been fortunate in receiving many valuable suggestions from our Reverend Patrons regarding the improvement of these editions, based upon observations in their daily recitations of the Office. Our Editorial Department has in all instances given careful attention to such advice and transmitted the result to the publishers for the consideration of their liturgical editors. The incorporation of such helpful ideas in resulting editions has served to produce texts which for convenience of arrangement are excelled by none. References have been reduced to a minimum making frequent page turning unnecessary and affording a continuous and uninterrupted recitation of the Office. The large world-wide demand for these famous editions makes frequent reprintings necessary and insures the inclusion of the newest offices in each edition.

ADVANTAGES OF MECHLIN BREVIARIES. The exceptionally low prices of these editions are an outstanding factor, being in all cases approximately 20% less than those of similar sizes and bindings in other editions, with which they compare favorably in point of material and workmanship. The sizes range from a 48mo. or Vest Pocket edition to the 12mo. or home Breviary. All are printed from clear, black type, blending harmoniously with the tint of the India paper.

ADVANTAGES OF THE TOURS BREVIARIES. These volumes have always made their principal appeal through the unusually high grade of Oxford India paper used in their production, and in this respect they are superior to any other edition of the Breviary on the market, either abroad or in the United States. This feature combined with a style of type at once sharp and clear, produces a page most pleasing to the reader and enables him to derive the greatest possible degree of comfort in their use. The bindings are dignified, durable and sufficiently yielding in flexibility to make them easily handled. Special Supplements, as required, may be had in all these editions.

The Holy Father Honors Father Lasance

Pope Pius XI Sends His Blessing to the Author of the Most Popular Prayer Book
(My Prayer Book) and Gives His Approval to Father Lasance's Prayer Books

HIS Grace, the Most Reverend John T. McNicholas, O.P., S.T.M., Archbishop of Cincinnati, has received a letter from His Eminence, P. Cardinal Gasparri, Secretary of State to His Holiness, addressed to Father Lasance, written at the direction of Pope Pius XI which in an authorized translation reads as follows:

SECRETARIATE OF STATE OF HIS HOLINESS
THE VATICAN, MAY 10, 1927.

VERY REVEREND FATHER,

Through His Eminence Cardinal Boggiani, the Holy Father has received copies of the many spiritual books written by you. His Holiness wishes that these volumes, which assuredly will promote the spiritual life, may receive an ever-increasing welcome in all the Christian families of your great country.

The Most Reverend Archbishop of Cincinnati has informed the Holy Father of your modesty, which prompts you to conceal your intellectual activities, and of your great zeal for souls manifested for many years notwithstanding your poor health.

His Holiness was pleased with the beautifully bound volumes presented by Benziger Brothers, and as a mark of his appreciation sends to you and to the publishers the Apostolic Blessing.

I am happy to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sentiments of sincere esteem.

Very affectionately in the Lord,

P. CARD. GASPARRI.

VERY REVEREND F. X. LASANCE.

In informing Father Lasance of the great honor which has come to him, Archbishop McNicholas wrote:

"I am very happy, through the kindness of Father Tieman, to send you the letter which our Holy Father directed Cardinal Gasparri to write. . . . Father Tieman has all the authority, communicated to me, to impart the Apostolic Blessing granted in the letter, to which blessing is attached a plenary indulgence."

Father Lasance is a native of Cincinnati and was born 67 years ago. He was ordained a priest in 1883. In 1891 he was appointed as a chaplain at the Summit, Grandin Road, where he occupied a small cottage known as "The Hermitage."

There, in his retirement, he began to write devotional works. He kept an eye on the needs of the day and culled the very best thoughts of the modern writers and arranged them beautifully in his books. He is undoubtedly the most popular writer of devotional books in the English language. In his special line he stands alone. "My Prayer-Book" is acknowledged to be the best general prayer-book published. "A thing of beauty," as Father Finn, S.J., called it, while in "The New Missal for Every Day," he reproduced the true liturgy of the Church. His "Prayer-Book for Religious" has obtained the position of a classic, and is used in almost all the convents of the country; and of his other books, it would be impossible to gauge the influence they have exerted; they have molded the spiritual life of thousands.

His Eminence,
P. Cardinal Gasparri

His Holiness,
Pope Pius XI at his desk

His Grace, Most Rev. John T.
McNicholas, O.P., S.T.M.,

FATHER LASANCE'S PRAYER-BOOKS

Author of
MY PRAYER-BOOK"
the most popular
Catholic Prayer-Book

Father Lasance's
Books of Devotion are absolutely the best in the English language

THERE is no other writer of devotional books who ranks with Father Lasance in the esteem of American Catholics. He is alone in his field, with methods peculiar to himself. He has brought to his work his own beauty of style, a rare perception of values. It is his happy gift to bestow happiness. He culls from the wisdom, the inspiration, the poetry of saint and sage precisely the sentences which will best help the soul to unfold its wings. He makes clear to us that there is no happiness apart from goodness, that to know God is to love Him, to love God is to need nothing else, and he leads us into the sunlight of that love of God. In the collection of Father Lasance's Prayer-Books as shown below there will be found a book to suit every taste and meet every want and purpose.

FATHER PRAYER

LASANCE'S BOOKS

THE MOST POPULAR PRAYER-BOOK
IN ENGLISH

MY PRAYER-BOOK HAPPINESS IN GOODNESS

Reflections, Counsels, Prayers, and Devotions. Contains also
Marriage-Mass and many Special Prayers

By

REV. F. X. LASANCE

702 pages. 16mo. Size, 5 7/8 x 4 inches.

The reflections preceding the prayers in this book so attune the mind and heart that the prayers would seem but a natural outpouring of the soul to God. The counsels are so very homely that they stimulate to what is practical. This prayer-book, while filling the needs of all, will undoubtedly appeal to many who, perhaps, have not the time nor inclination to soar in the clouds, but who, being struck by some commonplace which particularly comes home to them, will be tempted to read further and become better acquainted with the wisely chosen and beautiful prayers and devotions which fill more than half the book.

THE CATHOLIC GIRL'S GUIDE

(No. 134)

Oblong 16mo. Size, $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{3}{4}$ inches. An especially handy and convenient size

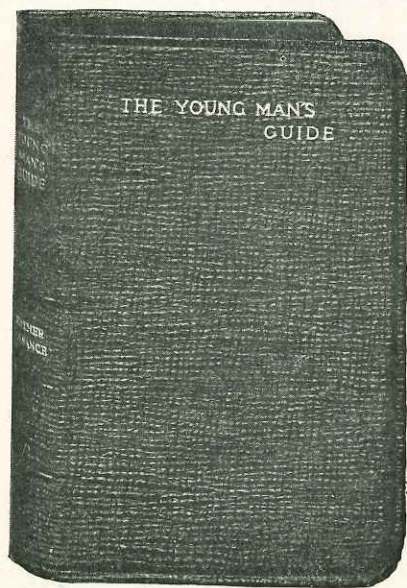

The book is intended for girls from the time of their leaving school to their settlement in life. The instructions on the two great Commandments, love of God and love of our neighbor, are most clear, practical, and persuasive, being detailed into the faith and piety, the purity, charity, obedience, love of labor, and honor and truthfulness which beseeem virtuous youth, and practiced at that time, become, as a rule, the habit of all one's life.

This "Guide" is to accompany the maiden on her way through life until she comes to the cross-roads, when it is incumbent on her to make the definite choice of a state of life. The needful advice and useful points are given to aid her, at this most important epoch, on which so much depends, in determining her vocation—in making her choice between the married and unmarried state.

FOR YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

THE YOUNG MAN'S GUIDE

(No. 145)

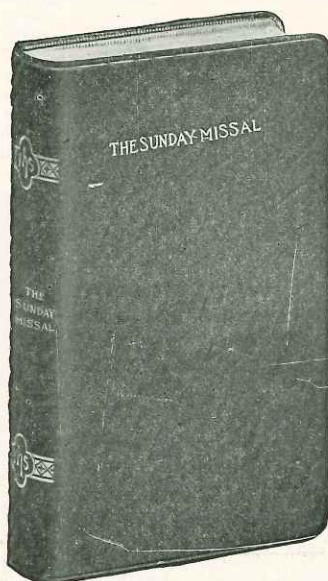

A Prayer-Book, including Counsels, Reflections and Prayers for Catholic Young Men
By REV. F. X. LASANCE

782 pages. Oblong 32mo. Size, $4\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{4}$ inches

With his characteristic enthusiasm and apostolic zeal, Father Lasance unites a calm conservatism and, rarer still, a vein of humor that will make the youth lucky enough to obtain a copy, carry it about in his vest-pocket and be proud of it. It will make him kindlier and more devout, and leave him not a whit the less manly for being so. It will so equip him that he will prize God and the things of God above all else.

THE SUNDAY MISSAL

For all Sundays and the principal Feasts of the year.

With Introduction, Notes, and a Book of Prayer

By REV. F. X. LASANCE

Revised in conformity with the Vatican typical edition of the Missale Romanum (the Book used by the Priest when saying Mass). To which are added supplements containing the proper Masses for the United States and various Masses for special devotion.

675 Pages. Handy 32mo. Size, 5 1/4 x 3 3/8 Inches. Printed from clear, heavy type. "The New Missal" is for Every Day. "The Sunday Missal" for Sundays and Holy-Days. Each Book, besides being a Missal, is also a complete prayer-book with all the usual devotions.

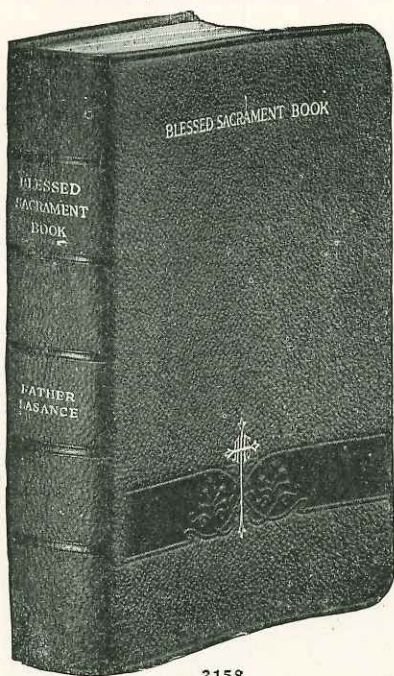

"The Sunday Missal," appealing as it does to a larger class of people, will be a still greater success than "The New Missal for Every Day" has become.

FATHER WORK FOR

FINN'S CHILDREN

BOYS' AND GIRLS' PRAYER BOOK

By FRANCIS J. FINN, S.J.

With colored pictures of the Mass, Way of the Cross, etc.

When Father Finn writes a book, especially for boys and girls, it is bound to be good. For he knows boys and girls, their wants and likes.

His purpose in this book is not merely to make the children pray, but to have them understand what they are praying.

As Father Finn says in his Preface:

"I am offering a prayer-book to all of you. . . . You cannot be good Christian children without saying your prayers faithfully. One of our great poets who was not a Catholic, says that more things are done by prayer than any of us imagine. That poet never said a truer thing in all the wonderful verses he composed. We must pray."

"If we pray right, it will help us to live right. And for you boys and girls for whom this prayer-book is printed, the way to live right is so simple and easy. I can put it all in one word—OBE-DIENCE."

FATHER PRAYER

LASANCE'S BOOKS

Nothing like this book in scope, plan, and practical utility; nothing equal to it in regard to completeness and variety of devotions for the special use of Religious has ever before been published in English, or probably in any language.

"It obviates the necessity of all other manuals of prayer."—BISHOP MAES, in Emmanuel.

"We venture the prediction that within a year's time it will become the vade mecum of every Religious."—Rosary Magazine.

"No need of having a number of devotional books now, as yours is a compendium of them all. I dare say it will, in a short time, be the favorite book of the Sisters all over the land."—A Sister of Notre Dame, St. Joseph's Academy, Columbus, O.

MY PRAYER-BOOK

IN GOODNESS

APPRECIATIONS OF "MY PRAYER-BOOK"

"It is a collection of beautiful prayers and subjects for meditation which will be the delight of pious souls."—His Eminence Cardinal Bégin.

"I am very much pleased with it and I am certain it will be the means of a great deal of good. A copy of it should be in every family. Parents ought to familiarize themselves with the book, and imprint on the minds of their children the wholesome reflections contained in it."—Most Rev. Henry Moeller, D.D., Archbishop of Cincinnati.

"I congratulate you on the good work you are doing in furnishing devotional language to suit all needs and tastes."—Right Rev. T. S. Byrne, D.D., Bishop of Nashville.

"I have looked through it with much interest as an entirely new experiment in devotional literature. With the object Father Lasance had evidently in view the experiment may be pronounced a very great and distinct success."—Very Rev. Canon Sheehan.

"I have carefully gone over 'My Prayer-Book' and am persuaded that it is indeed a prayer-book that is 'different.' It takes prayer and meditation into the bracing air and sweet sunshine of God. Happiness and holiness are brought together and shown to be fit partners for each other."—Rev. Francis J. Finn, S. J.

"Father Lasance has composed a sensible and delightful book of thought and prayer for the Christian people, which should find its way into every parish and into the hearts of priests and laity. Its note of cheerfulness is beautiful."—Rev. John Talbot Smith.

"I am delighted with Father Lasance's new book. 'My Prayer-Book' pleases by its freshness and unconventionality. The writer has the double merit of preaching the Gospel of Hope—no small merit in our days of pessimism—and of giving the owner food for thought rather than expanded commentaries."—Madame Cecilia.

"'My Prayer-Book' is a real treasure. The little book is full of holy joy from its opening words, 'Rejoice in the Lord, always,' to its last prayer, 'Deo Gratias.' It will bring light and comfort and courage to many souls. I think the purpose conceived is admirable, while the means chosen to carry it out are in some respects quite unique."—A Sister of Notre Dame, Trinity College.

"At last you have done me the honor to send me the ideal prayer-book, arranged by Father F. X. Lasance. It is quite evident that the reverend compiler of 'My Prayer-Book' has been specially favored by the Holy Ghost, for only an inspiration from Heaven acting on a devout and practical mind could have produced this precious little volume."—Hon. Maurice Francis Egan, Ambassador to Denmark.

"It breathes a spirit of cheerfulness, of optimism, of brotherly love, which is both refreshing and encouraging. I trust it will meet with the general reading and study which it richly deserves."—Hon. Victor J. Dowling, Judge of the Supreme Court of New York.

"Father F. X. Lasance has conceived the new and fruitful idea of making a bright thing out of a prayer-book. He calls his volume 'My Prayer-Book: Happiness in Goodness' and he verifies the title by offering to the devout reader a number of Reflections, Counsels, Prayers, and Devotions, which all tend to set forth with more or less distinctness the thought that to be charitable is to be happy, and that to make others happy is to be charitable. Apart from this aim the author follows out the maxim of seeking to find the beautiful in truth wherever it meets us, whether on Christian or pagan ground."—Ecclesiastical Review.

HAPPINESS

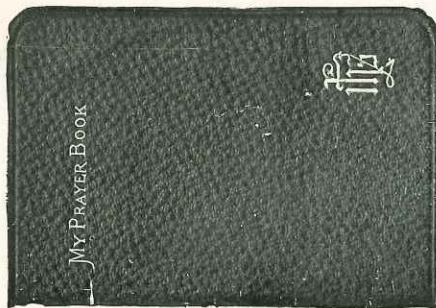

Reflections, Counsels, Prayers, and Devotions. Contains also Marriage-Mass and many Special Prayers

By

REV. F. X. LASANCE

702 pages, 16mo. Size, 5 1/2 x 4 inches

The reflections preceding the prayers in this book so attune the mind and heart that the prayers would seem but a natural outpouring of the soul to God. The counsels are so very homely that they stimulate to what is practical. This prayer-book, while filling the needs of all, will undoubtedly appeal to many who, perhaps, have not the time nor inclination to soar in the clouds, but who, being struck by some commonplace which particularly comes home to them, will be tempted to read further and become better acquainted with the wisely chosen and beautiful prayers and devotions which fill more than half the book.

Read what Brother Leo, the well-known Christian Brother and writer, says in "Columbia" about this book.

Catholicism, rightly envisaged, is an essentially joyous adventure, and not even the most zealous determination of our own brand of Puritans can keep it from being such. Far removed from the realm of painful piety is Father Lasance's latest devotional work, "Lift Up Your Hearts." I heartily recommend it to the tired business man who considers the practice of his religion an irritating duty and daily spiritual reading one of the exercises of Christian mortification. Father Lasance, as is his way, says here some excellent things on his own account, but besides has garnered bits of Holy Writ and universal literature in forms adapted for five-minute readings and informal reflection. He is Catholic and catholic in his taste. This is a prayer book of sorts, yet it includes selections from Lord Byron, the dramatist Thomas Dekker, Alice Cary, Dryden, Pope, Cowper, Longfellow, Whittier, Tennyson, Gray, Beattie, Milton, Bobbie Burns, Chesterfield and the great Portuguese poet Luis de Camoëns. It is an admirable volume to keep on the little table between the twin beds, and a suitable present for Cousin Bill and that fellow McCann and that girl Jimmy Peters has gone and married. It is of pocket size though it contains nearly 900 pages, and will make a more serviceable traveling companion than anything that can be grabbed at the news-stand just before the train pulls out. There is a little reading in it for every day in the year—not to speak of nights when Morpheus has tire trouble.

Revised in Conformity with the Missale Romanum. To which are added the proper Masses for the various Religious Orders and for the Laity as being difficult.

As time went by, the expressed approval of many Archbishops and Bishops, the favorable comments of the Reverend Clergy and Religious and the many cordial press reviews, coupled with the ever-increasing demand, vindicated the correctness of the original judgment passed on this excellent book.

It is therefore of great significance, to be able to announce a New Revised Edition. Retaining all the distinguishing features, particularly the Introduction, the Notes, and the Appendix of General Prayers, that mark it as an outstanding accomplishment, it is in harmony with the Vatican Typical Edition of the Missale Romanum. It thus contains the newest changes, also some additions, the usefulness of which will be readily apparent.

Vatican Typical Edition of the are added supplements containing United States and various Masses special devotion.

Some Outstanding Features

Its simple arrangement makes it easy for anyone to follow the Mass as said by the priest from day to day. The correct translation of the Latin prayers into plain English makes their reading a pleasure and their exquisite spiritual meaning better understood.

A beautiful devotional and practical treatise sets forth how we may properly avail ourselves of the unbounded riches of Holy Mass.

The meanings of the various ceremonies, the reasons for the altar and other sanctuary requisites, why vestments of different kinds and colors are worn, etc., etc., are clearly explained.

It tells all about the significant and wonderful ceremonies in the morning service of Holy Week.

In fine, it is the most useful Mass Book in English adapted to the practical needs of Religious and Lay-people alike.

FRIDAY IN PASSION WEEK 335
Prayer over the people.

Let us pray

BOW down your heads to God. Be merciful, we beseech Thee, O Lord, to Thy people, that, rejecting the things which please Thee not, we may rather be filled with the delights of Thy commandments. Through Our Lord.

Friday in Passion Week
Introit. Ps. xxx.

HAVE mercy on me, O Lord, for I am afflicted: deliver me, and save me out of the hands of my enemies, and from them that persecute me; let me not be confounded, O Lord, for I have called upon Thee. Ps. lxxviii. In Thee, O Lord, have I hoped, let me never be confounded: deliver me in Thy justice. Have mercy.

Prayer.

OF THY loving-kindness pour Thy grace into our hearts, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that, curbing our sinful propensities with voluntary chastisement, we may suffer in this life and not be condemned to eternal punishments. Through Our Lord.

For the Church or Pope, pages 142, 143.

Lesson. Jer. xvii. 13-18.

IN THOSE days, Jeremias said: O Lord, all that forsake Thee shall be confounded: they that depart from Thee, shall be written in the earth: because they have forsaken the Lord, the vein of living waters. Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed, save me, and I shall be saved: for Thou art my praise. Behold they say to me: Where is the word of the Lord? let it come. And I am not troubled, following Thee for my pastor, and I have not desired the day of man, Thou knowest. That which went out of my lips, had been right in Thy sight. Be not Thou a terror unto me, Thou art my hope in the day of affliction. Let them be confounded that persecute me, and let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, and let not me be afraid; bring that when they open it at random—here, there, anywhere—

their eyes will fall upon some salutary thought,
some winged word,
that will elevate their souls,
and bring them into closer union with God;
that will impart to them something they may be in need of at the time—
consolation in their trials,
buoyancy in their weariness,
peace of mind in their perplexities, patient endurance in their struggles along the royal road,
counsel in the way of perfection,
courage in the accomplishment of a difficult task, inspiration and firm resolve to do great things, ac-

Actual size

For all ordinary devotional purposes—

This is a well-planned book of necessary prayers and devotions, carefully selected ejaculations, counsels and reflections, of practical utility. They are presented in an attractive and legible type and in a variety of bindings. The convenience of its size, especially considering the amount of material included, makes it an achievement in compact book-making. It will slip conveniently into the smallest pocket or handbag.

Father Lasance has devoted many years entirely to compiling prayer-books. He has produced a special book for almost every conceivable purpose—for Religious, for young men, for girls, for children, for visits to the tabernacle, for devotion to the Blessed Virgin, and a score of others. Let Us Pray is the culmination of a long-cherished and carefully worked-out plan to provide the masses of the people with a handy-sized manual, meeting all ordinary requirements, yet genuinely stimulating devotion, and most important, at an extremely low price.

Retailing at 35 cents, Father Lasance's latest prayer-book will carry its message far and wide into uncouneted homes.

We were afraid that this volume was going to be untiturgical, sentimental, namby-pamby, and perfumed with rose water, as other books of this kind are, and should not be. But in examining it we were soon convinced that this Treasury is not unworthy of its name. (Rev. J. M. Lelen in "Daily Catholic Tribune.")

The Little Flower Treasury

PRAYER-BOOKS FOR SPECIAL DEVOTIONS

THE OFFICE OF HOLY WEEK

(No. 69)

AND OF THE PASCHAL TRIDUUM ACCORDING TO THE ROMAN RITE. REVISED ACCORDING TO THE NEW RUBRICS

332 pages. 16mo. Size, 6 x 4 inches

This Edition of the Office of Holy Week contains the Mass, Vespers, and Complin for each day in the Holy Week and for Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday in Easter Week; the special Morning and Night Services for Palm Sunday; and the last three days of Holy Week; together with Matins and Lauds for Easter Sunday; and the Blessings of the Holy Oils on Maundy Thursday.

It is with the desire of exciting pious sentiments in the hearts of the faithful that the whole Liturgy of the Church for Holy Week has been collected in this volume, and is presented to the public both in the Latin and English languages. Thus, while the pious Christian unites his voice with that of the priest and choir, he may also penetrate the sense of the Divine Office, and sanction by the fervor of his heart what he pronounces with his tongue.

THE EUCHARISTIC PRIEST

Reflections on the Blessed Eucharist as the Center and Inspiration of the Sacerdotal Life.

By
ALEXIS CARDINAL LEPICIER, O.S.M.
Archbishop of Tarsus

12mo, imitation leather, flexible, gold side stamp, with frontispiece, net, $2.00; postage 10 cents.

HOW often has the holy priesthood been written about from its pastoral and theological aspects, yet how seldom from its purely religious and devotional side. No need, therefore, to stress the importance of this book of the learned and pious Archbishop Lepicier. His theme is the Blessed Eucharist as it enters into the various phases of the priest's daily life, or, rather, as it is the Center around which his interior life revolves. The priest will thus find this an ideal book for spiritual reading, its attractive format making it suitable for a regular place on the prie-dieu. Because of its divisional arrangement, he can open it at random and read some word of encouragement or something to renew his ardor.

In the appendix, besides the hymns in honor of the Blessed Sacrament in Latin and English, which can be used in his thanksgiving after Mass, there is a detailed schema of the whole book which will be found useful for conferences by those who have the direction of seminarians or who give retreats to priests.

A year and a half ago, Alexis Cardinal Lepicier, O.S.M., completed a trilogy of three books, dedicated respectively to Jesus, Mary and Joseph. These books won for him, even among the laity, a reputation for spiritual unction as great as was his authority among the clergy in matters theological. His latest volume is on the Blessed Sacrament.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE

Thirty Considerations on the Blessed Eucharist, With Examples

By ALEXIS CARDINAL LEPICIER, O.S.M.
Archbishop of Tarsus

12mo. Frontispiece. Net, $1.75. Postage, 10 cents.

WITH his sound theological learning and aided by his own personal fervor, the newly-appointed Archbishop has analyzed various phases of the Holy Eucharist in order to make his readers appreciate more fully the generous love of God for man in condescending to come down upon our altars and to dwell in our tabernacles. Both as a sacrifice and as a sacrament he has regarded the subject, and by his ardent style bids fair to increase the faith and the love of all unto whose hands this book may come. As each chapter is divided into three parts and is terminated by an example, the volume is well adapted for meditations. It can serve as a suitable book for spiritual reading. Priests will find it helpful in the preparations of sermons.

A New and Notable Book for Priests

THIS IS NOT A LIFE OF SAINT PAUL;
IT IS THE APPLICATION OF HIS RICHLY
PASTORAL EXPERIENCES TO MODERN LIFE

THE PRIEST AND SAINT PAUL

TRANSLATED FROM THE GERMAN OF
REV. OTTO COHAUSZ, S.J.

By REV. LAURENCE P. EMERY, M.A.

12mo, cloth, net, $2.25. Postage, 15 cents.

THE AUTHOR: The name of the Rev. Otto Cohausz, S.J., may be unfamiliar to English readers, yet it is well known in Germany, where Father Cohausz enjoys a reputation as a powerful orator and able apologist of Catholic doctrine. He is also well known for his Conferences, Missions and Retreats, while his writings have met with great success. The book Paulus, ein Buch für Priester, of which this volume is a translation, appeared first in 1919 and has run into several editions.

THE CHARACTER OF THE BOOK

THE learned Jesuit author, from his intimate study as an exegete, and from his long experience in conducting retreats for the clergy, has gathered a fund of practical knowledge which he has combined in book form for the benefit of the priesthood.

Against a background of Spiritual texts the majority of which are Pauline, he has written a treatise on the priesthood, yet when one has finished reading the volume one has, at the same time, witnessed a vivid panorama of the varied, hazardous, bustling activities of the Apostle of the Gentiles. Father Cohausz has applied the words and experiences of St. Paul to the priestly life of the present day. And there is very little of that life that has been overlooked in this comprehensive work. He not only considers the priest with regard to himself, the Church, his fellow priests and superiors, but gives very concrete advice on his relations to the people. The priest burdened with overpowering care and baffled by discouragement will find solace in this book and perhaps also a solution to some of his difficulties. The holy will become holier still. The young priest will welcome the abundant fatherly advice from this experienced Jesuit—but there is no priest who cannot benefit by reading it. For example, some of the subjects covered are: pessimism, discouragement, falsely directed asceticism, selfishness, contact with different classes of people, adapting oneself to men—men living in the world—and sympathizing with them—the esprit de corps of the parish, co-operation, inculcating a spiritual life in the laity, too many sermons,—timeliness of sermons and a host of other matters constructively criticized.

This is therefore a remarkable book and one that no priest can afford to be without. It is a book that can be used for his daily meditation and spiritual reading. It is, furthermore, a book with which every seminarian should become familiar for the insight which it gives into the many and varied problems of the field for which he is preparing.

THIS BOOK WILL NOT DISAPPOINT THE READER

Monsignor Kirlin's Last Book for Priests

PRIESTLY VIRTUE AND ZEAL

A Study of the Life of St. John Baptist Vianney, the Curé d'Ars and Patron of Priests, Applied to the Sacerdotal Life of Today

BY

VERY REV. MSGR. J. L. J. KIRLIN

FORMERLY DIRECTOR OF THE PRIESTS'
EUCCHARISTIC LEAGUE, PHILADELPHIA

WITH PREFACE BY

RIGHT REV. FRANCIS C. KELLEY, D.D., LL.D.

BISHOP OF OKLAHOMA

12mo, imitation leather, flexible, gold side, colored top, net, $2.00; postage, 10 cents

Though the Master has called this zealous author from this life, his work still goes on through this his final gift to the clergy. Into its fervent pages he has, as it were, crowded the practical conclusions of a long and fruitful service and has applied them to vital stages of the priestly career from the seminary to the parsonate. As an illuminating and heartening background for it all, he analyzes some pertinent phase of the life of the saintly Curé d'Ars.

MONSIGNOR Kirlin wrote the book for which I am struggling in these lines to find a worthy preface. I shall fall short, because I am not a Saint like Vianney nor so good an imitator of Saints as was the zealous author. I may say that without fear of hurting Monsignor Kirlin's modesty, for he is dead and this is his last book. The labor of it was done before death chilled his active fingers and gently took the pen out of them. He knew nothing but that labor. . . . Those who read and are inspired by it will, in turn, contribute to the author's second life. He deserves it. Many good priests loved him for his zeal shown so often in his writings. They will make that second priestly life of his productive for him by drawing inspirations out of his last conscious effort on behalf of us all, his fellow priests of the English tongue.

ALTHOUGH the different diocesan courts may vary in the nomenclature of their officials, the procedure and formalities must, of course, in general be along the same lines. Hitherto, however, there has been no practical and authoritative guide in book form, giving concrete details as to how an actual trial should be conducted or what forms should be filled out. In consequence, the Holy Roman Rota has at times been obliged to return documents of cases to the original courts because of essential forms omitted or of other major defects. The use of such a book as this will therefore insure correctness and completeness of form and detail as well as expedite the entire routine of the court. The fact that it has been examined and approved by a member of the Roman Rota itself is ample guarantee of its authenticity. In Part I, the duties of the various officials are explained in detail. In Part II, the actual procedure is described step by step from beginning to end with constant references to the forms required at each stage. Part III contains the forms themselves in rotation and numbered as needed. The book is written entirely in English with the exception of extracts from the New Code, which are quoted to substantiate what has been previously explained. Not only actual officials of diocesan courts will be benefited by this manual, but also those who are liable to be called upon in future to fulfil these offices, especially students in seminaries.

SODALITY CONFERENCES

SECOND SERIES

BY REV. EDWARD F. GARESCHE, S.J.
8vo. Cloth. Net $2.75. Postage 15 cents.

IN this new volume, Father Garesché continues his conferences on the rules of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, taking up many rules not discussed in his other book, and adding to his instructions on others. Not content with merely interpreting them, he gives practical suggestions for putting them into practice.

Sodalists will find much useful counsel of a personal sort, as most of the rules treated here deal largely with the individual members. Consequently the second volume is even more suitable for readings than the first.

"Children of Mary," which has been out of print for some time, is here included with revisions and additions.

SODALITY CONFERENCES : FIRST SERIES

By REV. EDWARD F. GARESCHE, S.J.
8vo. Cloth. Net $2.75. Postage 15 cents.

"A book which should prove invaluable to directors and sodality officials, and of great interest and profit to every sodalist who is desirous of a right knowledge of the purpose and spirit of the sodality. The book is well indexed for ready reference, and will, moreover, furnish interesting and profitable reading at sodality meetings."

"A highly serviceable book. That in brief is the judgment which must be pronounced upon this volume by those who are interested in the questions here under discussion. They cover all the multifarious problems that engage the attention of the social worker. Father Spalding rightly judged that no single individual can hope to become an authority in all the many and diverse problems of our complex civilization, and much less can any one man hope to possess a thorough understanding of all the countless agencies that have sprung up to answer the urgent social needs of our day. He has therefore refrained from attempting any such task himself, and instead has called upon authorities and experts in the various fields of work to supply him with the chapters of this book."—America.

You may not be a "man from Mars" but you too would choose

THE MIND

By JOHN X. PYNE, S.J.
Professor of Philosophy, Fordham University

380 pages. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00

"WERE these books¹ to come under the notice of a 'man from Mars' he would probably be astonished. Here are two treatises on the same subject, each written by an expert therein. Yet one flatly contradicts the other. In hardly one thing do they agree. The first is the work of a teacher who is widely informed on the literature of his matter. Written by a priest and a Jesuit, it comprises his teaching to the youth attending one of our prominent universities. The second book is the work of a professor of distinguished ability and of considerable general culture, although his work manifests a rather inadequate acquaintance with the literature of his subject."

"—after I say, the Mavortian philosopher has reacted from this surprise, it will not take him long to discover that the cause of the contrariety lies in the opposite world-views under which the respective professors see their common subject. The first is decidedly theistic; the second is just as decidedly non-theistic, agnostic, if not atheistic. . . .

"Examining both dispassionately there is little risk in declaring that our Mavortian reader should have no difficulty in discerning to which of the two the prize of sound logic and genuine science should be allotted. The first book, he would soon discern, comprises a closely woven tissue of thought every fiber of which is vitally connected with every other and all are combined into a compact organism; the whole being animated throughout by a perfectly coherent world-view wherein God occupies the first place, and from Him by a process not of pantheistic evolution, but of immediate creation, proceed the original matter of the universe and every human mind. The psychological portion of this world-view is wrought out by the native power of the human intellect, no appeal, whatsoever, being made to revelation, faith or theology. It is a work of pure philosophy, of metaphysics applied to the Mind. After a preliminary section (Part I), the first part (Part II) develops the portion of rational Psychology which treats of the nature, origin and immortality of the soul; the second part (Part III) deals with the sensuous phenomena; the third part (Part IV) with the rational phenomena (intellect and will) of the Mind. The general plan is, of course, familiar to Neo-Scholastic students. The usual arrangement, however, has been inverted, the author rightly deeming it that the reader will be helped by getting at the start a clear idea of what the Mind really is, before going on to consider the activities or phenomena thereof. The manner and style in which the subject is worked out deserve high praise. The author is gifted with the art of making crooked ways straight and rough roads even. Without weakening the science he makes it easy and pleasant to read. Seldom if ever does one come across so attractive a work on psychology. The Scholastic arguments are all here, the pros and the cons. And yet it is not done in Anglicized Latin. It is pleasant and popular in the best sense of the term. Perhaps not so technically erudite as Fr. Maher's well-known manual, it is no less clear, plain and in some respects more interesting. Like the book just mentioned, it should be in the hands of our young men and women who are attending secular institutions."

1. The Mind. By John X. Pyne, S.J., Professor of Philosophy, Fordham University. Benziger Brothers, New York, Cincinnati, Chicago. 1926.
"The Mind" is a presentation of Scholastic psychology in the language of the twentieth century. Scholastics understand psychology in its literal sense as the "science of the soul," "Scientific" psychology substituted "mind" for "soul." "The Mind" gives the meaning of Scholastic psychology in terms of "scientific" psychology.

A NECESSARY BOOK FOR ALL PRIESTS

PENAL LEGISLATION IN THE NEW CODE OF CANON LAW

BY
VERY REV. H. A. AYINHAC, S.S., D.D., D.C.L.
President of St. Patrick's Seminary, Menlo Park, Cal.
Author of "Marriage Legislation in the New Code of Canon Law."

8vo, imitation leather, net, $3.75

This work is an explanation of the fifth book of the Code, which contains the whole legislation now in force on ecclesiastical offences and penalties.

WHAT THE CRITICS SAY:

"Dr. Ayinhac, whose volume on the Marriage Law was favorably commented upon in these pages, does his work in the present treatise with equal conscientiousness and practical realization of the needs of the American clergy. The author has chosen a form of exposition which is useful both for the class-room and in the hands of canonists, inasmuch as it gives emphasis not only to the laws but to the principles which underlie them. He likewise lays stress upon the differences in former discipline and the present legislation, making the change intelligible and adaptable. These are the salient features of a commentary which in other respects takes its merits from the Code itself and will be found of real service to pastoral as well as legal interpreters of the common Church law."—Ecclesiastical Review.

"The clear, concise and business-like style in which it is written is an additional recommendation to a book that is valuable on many scores."—Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

"The explanation is well documented by the decisions of Rome and the opinions of eminent canonists. Where the text of the code deviates from the Constitution Apostolicæ Sedis the reading of both appears in parallel columns to emphasize the new version. The Bibliography placed at the head of various parts will be found of great value and service. A good index closes the book which pastors of souls and ecclesiastical students should not ignore."—Ave Maria.

"This book will be of great advantage to confessors, for the section on excommunication is especially well done."—Dominicana.

"The author's equipment is well known and has already proved itself in his former work on Marriage Legislation. It is no less evident here and clerics generally will be glad to have this new aid to a right understanding and application of the New Code."—American Catholic Quarterly Review.

His Eminence
GEORGE CARDINAL MUNDELEIN

Letters of a Bishop To His Flock

BY
HIS EMINENCE
GEORGE CARDINAL MUNDELEIN
CARDINAL PRIEST OF THE TITLE OF SANTA MARIA DEL POPOLO
BY THE GRACE OF GOD AND FAVOR OF THE APOSTOLIC SEE
ARCHBISHOP OF CHICAGO

8vo, Cloth, Illustrated Jacket, Frontispiece and one double page Illustration, Net, $2.00
Postage, 15 cents.

From the Preface. "... the letters of a bishop to his flock, these are no longer his own. As soon as they leave his pen they influence those about him. For good or for ill they help to mould the conduct of his clergy and people and often the views of those not of his fold. They form part of the history of the diocese. They record for posterity the story of a people's loyal generosity to the successor of St. Peter; they detail the method by us adopted to keep fresh in mind of young and old the truths and precepts of our Holy Faith; they picture the growth year by year of the work of our organized Catholic Charities."

It will, therefore, be readily apparent from the mention of these few topics, what rich promise this material holds out to the reader generally, opening as it does a vista of present-day Church activity, at once enlightening, intensely interesting and forming a page of notable Church history of our own times.

Of equal importance are the lessons to be derived from its study by the Reverend Clergy, since its subject matter covers much that pertains to Pastoral-Theological lore, in which category the science of sociology may now-a-days be justly included.

His Eminence concludes his preface by expressing the hope that, "Perhaps somewhere in these pages there may be buried a tiny seed that, watered by divine grace, will take root and bring forth fruit in its day for Christ's cause and that in this 'he should find' his greatest reward."

IMMOLATION Life of Mother Mary of Jesus

(MARIE DELEUIL-MARTINY)

Translated and adapted from the French of

ABBÉ L. LAPLACE

By RT. REV.

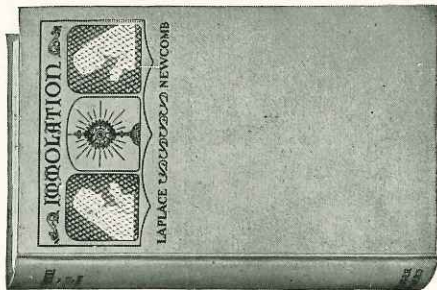

MSGR. J. F. NEWCOMB, P.A., J.C.D.
Superintendent of Parochial Schools, Wheeling, W. Va.

With Preface by

RT. REV. JOHN J. SWINT, D.D.

Bishop of Wheeling

8vo, cloth. With Frontispiece and 11 Illustrations. Net, $3.75.

THIS is not just another biography. It is a devotional exposition of personal sacrifice—immolation—in connection with the Holy Sacrifice and the Holy Eucharist as exemplified in the life of this young Foundress. On fire with the thought of the Kingship of Christ—an idea which has been recently emphasized with a special feast instituted by Pope Pius XI—with a keen appreciation of the sufferings caused Our Lord by slights and irreverence in the Sacrament of His love, this ardent soul propagated the guard of Honor, gathered about her a band of adorers and established a Congregation to make perpetual reparation to the Holy Eucharist.

She likewise gives a clear interpretation to the relation of our blessed Lady to the priesthood and the Holy Sacrifice. Just when the Foundress had established her work she was assassinated by a Communist in 1884 and efforts have been made to have her beatified.

This is a spiritual reading book that will appeal to priests and Religious. It will interest the laity by its exposition of the mystical union of the layman with the priest in the Holy Sacrifice. Preachers will find in it much sermon matter, particularly on Jesus Christ the King, on Mary's "priesthood" and on the priesthood itself, and on Mary as a channel of grace.

There is no need to urge the purchase of a standard work such as this. The fact that it has been widely adopted by seminaries and that so many of the Reverend Clergy both here and abroad accept it as the most practical and thorough book of its kind is sufficient guarantee of its real worth. Of this Tenth Edition America says: "The Compendium will prove an indispensable and reliable guide for priests and seminarians, who will be grateful to the editor for facilitating their task of keeping abreast of present liturgical requirements."

Special Features:

Revised entirely according to the New Code of Canon Law, the New Missale Romanum and the latest Decrees of the Congregation of Sacred Rites. The historical notes have been brought up to date by the Rev. Abbot Ildephonsus Schuster, O.S.B. The hitherto separated portions on the Holy Eucharist have been united in one article. The Pontifical Mass has been given in full with diagrams and in columnar form.

Whisperings of the Caribbean

Reflections of a Missionary

By JOSEPH J. WILLIAMS, S.J.

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $2.00.

At the time of the great Jamaica earthquake in 1907 the author was visiting the island. He returned there in 1912, and during the hurricane of that year took a prominent part in the work of rescue and relief in Montego Bay. His description of the cyclone was subsequently incorporated into the official report of United States Government Weather Bureau.

Because of his intimate acquaintance with the history of the island, the habits and customs of the natives and his experiencing of its perilous storms, he is well qualified to give first-hand information regarding the incidents related.

Says The Franciscan: "In this day of reading about the mission fields, the stories which Father Williams tells are bound to prove interesting. . . . Each chapter is more interesting than the last. Various vignettes are woven into a pleasing and harmonious whole."

A beautiful and scholarly study The Ideals of St. Francis

By HILARIN FELDER, O.M.CAP.

Author of "Christ and the Critics," etc.

Translated by

BERCHMANS BITTLE, OM., CAP.

Preface by James J. Walsh, M.D., Ph.D.

8vo. Illustrated. 510 pages. Net, $4.00. Postage, 15 cents.

THE AUTHOR

"Christ and the Critics" has been accepted as the most completely satisfying study of the evidence bearing on the divinity of Our Lord. This new volume displays the same genius for research, the same keen power of analysis. The author carefully distinguishes between the certain and the merely probable; his logic spikes the guns of the skeptics, and his reverent sympathy is an inspiration.

HIS BOOK

Why still another book on St. Francis? Because there is need of an informed and comprehensive study which, without attempting a biographical sequence truly interprets his teaching. The life of the Saint offers temptations to sentimental misinterpretation that few writers resist. The author sees that the truth itself cannot be made more beautiful.

The book is faithful to its comprehensive title. The character, action and teachings of the Poverello are applied not merely as a guide to religious, but in their broad social aspects to modern conditions. Seventy pages of notes establish the authority of the work and direct the further efforts of the student. "The Ideals of St. Francis" is the final form of a manuscript begun thirty years ago and is eloquent of the author's untiring devotion to this beloved Saint.

New DeLuxe Edition

FRONTISPIECE

OUR

Their Varied and Vital

By REV. DANIEL

"Our Nuns" has met with a brilliant success, and aroused the enthusiastic approbation of all Catholic readers, clergy and laity alike. For those who desire an unusually handsome binding, either for personal use or as the perfect gift book, the publishers now offer a DE LUXE EDITION at $3.50, postage

In a series of pilgrimages Father Lord guides us through fifteen typical Catholic Institutions. And in all of them—the orphanage, the hospital, the old people's home—always do we see the same patient, loving person, ever ready to receive with open arms those who turn to her in time of need.

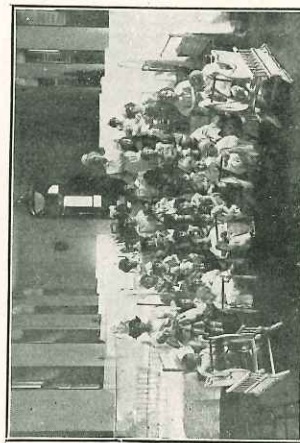

They all agree—A GREAT BOOK!

AMERICA

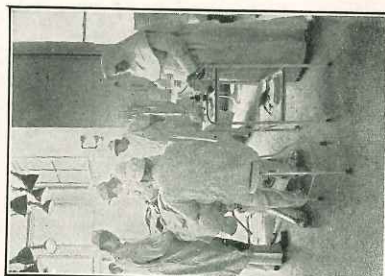

"Nuns should read this book, for they may be so close to beauty as to lose perspective. Priests should read it for their advice and directions mean so much to an uncertain soul. The laity should read it, for to them the nuns look for sympathy and cooperation."

ECCLIASTICAL REVIEW

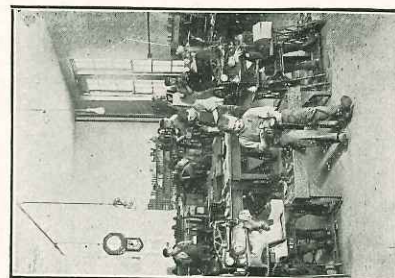

"These scenes present typical centres of religious activity in such a way as both to awaken vocations to the convent and to interpret them to the outsider without the didactic formalities that characterize purely historic accounts."

THE DEFENSE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Combined with a Study of the Life of Christ Based on the Gospels

A Text-Book for Colleges and Universities

By

FRANCIS X. DOYLE, S.J.

Professor of Philosophy and Apologetics,
Georgetown University

With the Complete Text of the Four Gospels Having Passages Relating to the Divinity of Christ and The Church in Outstanding Types and with a Map of Palestine

8vo. Cloth. Net, $2.75. Postage, 15 cents.

ITS CHARACTER. A new text-book humanizing the teaching of Religion for Colleges and Universities.

ITS EXTENT. It is the first of a series of four volumes, one for each College year.

ITS USE. Mainly for Freshman Year, but it will fit into any one year of a College Course.

ITS METHOD. It correlates the Life of Christ with Doctrine teaching. The only text which does this.

a) There are 57 Lessons. Sufficient material for a year's course, subject to expansion or curtailment according to the judgment of the Professor.

b) Every Lesson begins with the study of an incident from the Life of Christ. Then follows the Doctrine, clearly and systematically explained.

c) An appendix containing "The Four Gospels," Douai Version, emphasizes in bold types all passages referring to the Divinity of Christ or the Church. This also allows the student to familiarize himself thoroughly with the Gospels.

d) A map helps to visualize and locate the scenes of Our Lord's teaching activities.

e) A biography of easily available books for extended reading is given.

f) It is modern in every way. Thus, the much vaunted question of "THE RELATION OF CATHOLICS TO CHURCH AND STATE" is clearly treated.

WHAT THE REVIEWERS SAY

"There is sufficient clarity in presentation of the matter and a scientific completeness that will satisfy the most ambitious student."—The Pilot, Boston.

"When Professor Doyle tells us that he has written 'a text-book' we cannot but agree. It is a text-book he has written. When, however, he suggests that his text-book is unsuitable for popular reading, we beg leave respectfully to dissent. What he calls the frigid of the scholastic presentation, is to us a refreshing lucidity."—New York Times.

LIVING FOR GOD

By SISTER MARIE PAULA, Ph.D.

College of Mt. St. Vincent, N. Y.
Author of "Talks With Teachers."

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.75. Postage, 10 cents.

THIS is a book of very frank, and for that reason, valuable reflections on various aspects of the spiritual life. As in her former book, the author believes in going into the byways for her subjects with the result that the thoughts she develops always have about them a certain freshness and newness. One will not find, therefore, any of the ponderous discussions of theological aspects of asceticism, nor subjects that form the progressive steps in the way of spiritual perfection customary in a formal treatise on the religious life, but rather a very practical consideration of the "tremendous trifles" that are actually very irksome and trying, at times, in community life, and yet, for the most part, are unnoticed by the offenders.

The author, of long experience as a teacher, has therefore written this book to call these little foibles to the attention of her sisters in religion and thus to make the rough ways smooth. But though this book has been written chiefly for nuns it will prove equally efficacious for novices and Religious of both sexes.

WHAT IS SAID OF THIS REMARKABLE BOOK

"Nothing that we can say will be too highly favorable for this wonderful book. It is timely and useful and is designed to meet a great demand for Catholic information. There have been written many volumes with the same intent, but this latest is by far the best we have seen."—The Tablet.

"Father Hill is to be congratulated warmly on having written a book that will be of great service to teachers, catechists, instructors of converts, and even to the general reader, for the author furnishes them with 'answers' no less 'ready' than convincing to many of the attacks made to-day against the Christian Revelation and Catholic morality."—America.

"The book should prove very useful to Catholics, supplying them as it does with answers ready at hand to difficulties which are everywhere in the air these days."—Ecclesiastical Review.

"We welcome this volume, then, as a valuable work of Catholic reference and defence. Encyclopedic in its compass and reasonable in price, it ought to find its way into all our libraries."—The Universe (England).

"Here will be found clear exposition, sound guidance, and sufficient documentation in regard to the hundred and one diverse subjects that keep coming up in the work of the Catholic apologist."—The Month (England).

"It is a strong, conclusive, and convincing book, and we are confident will prove highly popular."—The Lamp.

"If our laity wish to exercise a fruitful apostolate, and therefore to be well instructed on Catholic matters, we urge them to study this book."—Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

"If every sincere non-Catholic would only read its pages, we are sure that every vestige of prejudice must vanish from their minds, and the Church to appear to them, not in the distorted light, or shadow rather, cast upon her by foes, but rather as she stands in the sight of God."—The Pilot.

"From the point of view of his Faith, the author's work is most admirable. Sanity directed his pen and controlled his creation. Calmly, with the eloquence of simplicity, and simplicity of eloquence, the learned divine covers his topics, illuminating all with the light of ripe scholarship and placing clearly before his readers the principles and doctrines of his historic Church. Here neither appeal to passion or prejudice will be found. He simply tells, with literary grace, strength, dignity, and power, what his Church teaches and believes."—Brooklyn Citizen.

"The book is one that will be appreciated not only by Catholics, who will find in it support for convictions already held, but also by non-Catholics who desire to understand the Catholic belief upon matters of current interest."—New York Evening Post.

NEW PRACTICAL MEDITATIONS

FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

ON THE

LIFE OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST

CHIEFLY INTENDED
FOR THE USE OF RELIGIOUS COMMUNITIES

BY THE

Rev. Father BRUNO VERCRUYSE, S.J.

THE ONLY COMPLETE ENGLISH TRANSLATION.

PUBLISHED WITH THE APPROBATION AND UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
THE AUTHOR.

Enriched by several Novenas and Octaves; Meditations for the First Friday of every Month and for the Days of Communion. Exercises preparatory to the Renewal of Vows, and for a Retreat of Eight Days; a New Method of hearing Mass, and Practical Remarks on the Different Parts of Meditations; a Plan of Jerusalem with a Map of Palestine, showing the different Localities mentioned throughout the Work, and an Alphabetical Table of Contents and of Meditations on the Gospels of the Sundays.

2 vols., 1244 pp. Extra cloth, beveled boards, red edges, $6.50.

THE PLAN OF VERCRUYSE'S MEDITATIONS

The Work is divided into two volumes.

Each volume contains six months' meditations (Vol. I, Jan.-June. Vol. II, July-Dec.)

Volume I follows the order of the calendar as far as the 4th of February, which is the earliest day on which Ash-Wednesday can fall. From that day the order of the meditations corresponds with the course of the Sundays or weeks as far as the Feast of the Sacred Heart. However as Ash-Wednesday may fall 33 days later, an additional set of 33 meditations has been inserted at the end of the first volume for use in the time preceding Ash-Wednesday and the days after the Feast of the Sacred Heart, thus making the first half year complete.

Volume II follows the order of the calendar uninterrupted.

The subject matter has been cleverly arranged to provide variety, thus interspersing the Life of Our Lord and the Gospel Narrative with meditations on the Moral Virtues, the obligations of the religious profession, the lives of the principal founders of Religious Orders and the leading festivals of the year, some of the latter preceded by Novenas or followed by Octaves. For every Monday in Lent, there is a meditation on the necessity and practice of penance.

THIS PRACTICAL ARRANGEMENT FACILITATES THE USE OF THE MEDITATIONS

The Late Right Rev.
LOUIS DE GOESBRIAND
Bishop of Burlington, Vt.

Himself an author and the translator of the famous "Sacredotal Meditations" by Father Chagnon, S.J., pronounced Father Ver-crucy's Work as

"Really Practical Meditations which ought to be in the hands of All Persons Consecrated to God by the Vow of Religion."

BRIEF LIST OF CONTENTS

Preface. (An explanation of the method.)

A Method of hearing Mass.

Remarks on the Considerations and Applications. (This matter is also printed on a separate heavy sheet for each volume not only for use as a bookmark but for ready reference as to the objective and method of these meditations.)

Convent Echoes

Devotional Verses by

SISTER M. PARACLITA

Sisters of St. Joseph, Brentwood, N. Y.

With a Foreword by

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Author of "Mother," "Little Ships," etc.

24mo. Gift. Gold side and back. Net, $1.00

Sister Paraclita's verses betray no striving for bizarre effects or curious cadences. The feeling that is in them is too intense to clothe itself in anything but the simple language of reality.

"A profound and enveloping devotion," Kathleen

Norris says of Convent Echoes, "must give to anything it touches that reality—that poignant appeal—which is never found where the pure and simple and genuine feeling of the heart is wanting."

Touching many ideas not entirely new, Sister Paraclita has made them her own, colored them with her personality, given them "that reality—that poignant appeal" the critic speaks of.

Convent Echoes will be popular as a gift book not only for Religious but for many others who like the best devotional verse. And there are lines arresting and lovely that will appeal to all poetry lovers.

In the Workshop of St. Joseph

By HERMAN J. HEUSER, D.D.

Author of "Autobiography of an Old Breviary"

A new edition with two additional chapters. Illustrated from old engravings. Cloth. 12mo. Net, $1.75. Postage, 10 cents.

"About the outstanding biblical facts in the life of the Boy of Nazareth and His foster-father he weaves a bit of romance that veils a wealth of philosophy and Christian teaching. The narrative is tinged with all the color of the Orient and quaint in its simplicity and piety. While substantially an accurate picture of the people in whose midst the Holy Family lived and moved and with whom they dealt, portraying especially their social and religious customs, some charming little fictional incidents, which appear to evidence apocryphal legendary infiltrations, add interest to the story."—America.

Of Father Heuser's Autobiography of an Old Breviary (Net $2.00. Postage 10 cents), Rosary Magazine says: "This artistically bound volume stands by itself in our Catholic literature."

CATECHISM INSTRUCTION FROM A NEW ANGLE

SISTERS and teachers have eagerly awaited the development of a system of teaching which would explain the elements of faith in a manner entirely suitable for very young children. In these two books, Father Weigand outlines improved methods which, by combining efficiency with a thorough understanding of the child's mind, will lighten the burden of the instructors.

The Catechist and the Catechumen A Manual of Religion for Teachers and for Private Instruction

By REV. JOSEPH A. WEIGAND

With a Preface by Rt. Rev. James J. Hartley, Bishop of Columbus
12mo. Cloth. Net $1.80. Postage, 10 cents

DOCTRINE is outlined in simple language, and attractive arrangement, each topic leading directly to the next, and providing the memory with the natural aid of interesting presentation. Designed as a manual for teachers, it is a valuable reference book for the layman.

A Simple Course of Religion For Little Ones Preparing for their First Holy Communion

By REV. JOSEPH A. WEIGAND

Paper, 16mo. Wholesale net price to schools, $4.25 per 100

HERE is an altogether admirable adaptation of Church doctrine to the mind of the very little child. The words are the everyday words they know and understand. The type is large, and the lessons are presented in a manner easy to follow.

Catechism of the Vows

For the Use of Religious

By Rev. PETER COTEL, S.J.

Twenty-eighth Edition Carefully Revised and Harmonized with The Code of Canon Law by Rev. Emile Jombart, S.J. Translated by William H. McCabe, S. J. Cloth. Net $0.75. Postage 5 cents

THE re-editing and revision of this excellent little work, a real classic in its particular domain, will surely win the approval of the numerous religious communities.

In this entirely new translation made from the very newest French edition of Father Jombart, S.J., who undertook to bring Father Cotel's famous booklet, giving Religious an exact knowledge of the nature and the principal obligations of their state, into harmony with the New Canon Law, Father William H. McCabe, S.J., has preserved the accuracy, original simplicity of style and the very satisfying clarity so characteristic of Father Cotel's work.

NOTE: The publisher will be glad to correspond with the Directors and Directresses of Novitiates toward introduction of the booklet as a text on special terms.

FOR YOUR SCHOOL

DURING the years 1925-26-27 we have published more Catholic text books primarily written for the pupils of the Catholic Parochial Grade Schools than any other Catholic or Non-Catholic Publishing House. The reception which these most progressive publications have received has been a source of great encouragement to us. Just as the firm of Benziger Brothers was a Pioneer in the publishing of Readers, such as the "Catholic National Readers" and the "New Century Catholic Readers," so also are they to be found at the present time pioneering by the publication of books in which the authors apply to the exposition of our glorious Catholic religion, the best findings of modern pedagogy and methodology.

We all remember the difficulties we, ourselves, experienced in school in mastering the contents of the "Baltimore Catechism." Complete as they are, the "Baltimore Catechisms" perforce contain much "adult thought." It is considered good psychology to have a thorough knowledge of one's subject before committing same to memory.

We are proud to have had the privilege to publish the following supplementary readers: "Our First Communion," "The Mass for Children" and "Our Sacraments" from the pen of Rev. William R. Kelly. They form narrative explanations of those particular parts of the catechism which their titles refer to, written in language comprehensible to the child without the patronizing element of "talking down" to the child. Father Kelly plans to cover the entire matter of the "Baltimore Catechism" with such supplementary publications. We quote His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, in speaking of these books: "'Our Sacraments,' I am sure, will prove a very helpful adjunct to the Catechism in concentrating the children's minds on the traditional answers of the more formal method of teaching."

You will also find Dr. Hannan's "Religion Hour I" and "Religion Hour II" with their respective companion books "Teacher Tells a Story I and II" stimulating and provocative of new ideas.

Bishop Gilmour's "Bible History" has long been a standard and is today undoubtedly the most popular Catholic schoolbook published; "Bible Stories for Little Children" also is a great favorite.

The most widely used catechisms are "Kinkead's Baltimore Series," and the "Baltimore Catechism" with word meanings. Kinkead's Baltimore Catechisms consist of a series of five numbers, arranged according to a progressive plan, whilst the "Baltimore Word Meaning" is complete in two numbers. Deharbe's large and small Catechisms are also used extensively.

The teaching of United States History has undergone great advancement in presentation. "America's Story" (for the lower grades) "Old World Foundations" (for European background study) "The United States" (for the upper grades) are head and shoulders above any text in the field. The authors, W. H. J. Kennedy and Sister M. Joseph, have been successful in blending just the right amount of Catholic motivation. Without overdoing and without slighting, they have pointed out to the Catholic youth of today the strong Catholic background of the pioneer days, as well as of the period of progress of our great United States. With a thorough knowledge of this religion and with the consciousness of this rich heritage in their own country our Catholic boys and girls will be given a self-confidence which cannot fail to stimulate them to continue this glorious record of achievements.

The above are but a few high lights of our recent educational publications. A perusal of our entire list makes us proud of having the privilege and distinction of signing ourselves—

A CHILD'S BOOKS ON RELIGION

Father Kelly's Books Help Children in their Catechism Studies

TO PREPARE THEM FOR FIRST COMMUNION GIVE THEM

OUR FIRST COMMUNION

By REV. WILLIAM R. KELLY

Instructions in Story Form with Colored Drawings Accompanying Text, According to Modern Educational Methods. Based on Essential Requirements, Canon 854 of the New Code of Canon Law.

36 Pictures (18 in colors and 18 in black and white half tones). Heavy paper covers, India tint, with colored pictures. Size of book 5 x 7 inches. List price, 32 cents. Net to schools, Priests and Religious, 24 cents. Boards. List price, 60 cents. Net to schools, Priests and Religious, 45 cents.

"A book that should be in the hands of every Catholic child."—Ave Maria.

"The booklet will be welcomed by both teachers and parents who have children to prepare for their First Holy Communion."—Catholic School Interests.

The apostles were the first priests. Our Lord gave them the power to do what He had done.

He gave them the power to change bread and wine into His Body and Blood.

The priest is the only one who can change bread and wine into Our Lord's Body and Blood.

When the priest puts Holy Communion on our tongues we know we have Jesus.

Holy Communion looks like bread; it tastes like bread. But it is not bread.

It is Jesus.

We cannot see Jesus because He is hidden there.

This is a reduction of the actual size

Type size of page is 4 inches wide by 6 inches high

Trimmed size of book is 5 inches wide by 7 inches high

But we know it is the same good Jesus who loved children long ago. He comes to us in Holy Communion. He comes right into our hearts. And so He wants our hearts to be very clean and good.

This text specimen demonstrates how clearly the author explains the Divine Presence 35 Pictures (18 colored and 17 in black and white half tones). Heavy paper covers, India tint, with colored pictures. Size of book 5 x 7 inches. List price, 32 cents. Net to schools, Priests and Religious, 24 cents.

DO BOYS AND GIRLS KNOW THE MEANING OF HOLY MASS?

WHEN TEACHING THE MASS GIVE THEM

THE MASS FOR CHILDREN

By REV. WILLIAM R. KELLY

Author of "Our First Communion"

Instructions in Story Form with Colored Drawings Accompanying Text According to Modern Education Methods.

ITS USE

As a supplementary reader; (a) in Catechism teaching; (b) in special liturgy classes on the Mass; (c) in the regular reading course. RESULT: DEVELOPMENT OF TWO STUDIES, ONE RELIGION, THE OTHER READING

The Mass Pictures are in colors and have been drawn specially and accurately according to the Ceremonial of the Church. They lead the child step by step through the entire Mass.

When a lamb was killed, and offered to God by a priest, that was called a "sacrifice."

Our Lord is called the Lamb of God because He offered up His life for the sins of all people. He was punished instead of us. His death on the cross was a sacrifice. We call it the "sacrifice of the Cross."

This text specimen is typical of the masterful explanation of those parts of the Mass not so readily taught.

IN THIS BOOK CHILDREN SEE "THE SACRAMENTS" JUST AS THEY OCCUR IN DAILY LIFE

128 pages. Paper covers, sewn, with reinforced muslin back. Colored Illustration on Cover. 7 full page colored pictures, 42 pictures in the text (10 colored, 32 black and white) after original drawings. Size of book 5 x 7 inches. List price, $0.60. Net to schools, $0.45.

OUR SACRAMENTS

INSTRUCTIONS IN STORY FORM FOR USE IN THE PRIMARY GRADES WITH COLORED DRAWINGS ACCOMPANYING TEXT ACCORDING TO MODERN EDUCATIONAL METHODS

By REV. WILLIAM R. KELLY

Author of "Our First Communion" and "The Mass for Children"

A continuous narrative binds the various Sacraments together by means of a conversation. As the story unfolds, the pupil sees the Sacraments just as they occur in life. For this purpose the illustrations were SPECIALLY DESIGNED at great expense and with minute care for the details and accuracy of the Liturgy. Never before has this been done in such a thorough manner. American Catholic children are the first to benefit by this practical feature.

The Child's Companion Book to Father Kelly's "Our Sacraments"

ASSIGNMENTS AND DIRECTIONS IN THE STUDY OF RELIGION. By Sister M. Mildred, O.S.F., Ph.D., Supervisor, Sisters of St. Francis, Glen Riddle, Pa.

ITS CHARACTER AND USE: An exercise and drill book on the matter contained in "Our Sacraments." It consists of review work in the form of questions, word studies, complete tests, oral and written summaries, true and false tests, etc. List price, $0.30. Net to schools, $0.22 1/2.

"The godparents make a promise for the baby that he will turn his back on the devil and on all the devil's works."
Next the children heard the priest ask "Matthew, wilt thou be baptized?"
And the godparents answered for him, "I will."
"Watch carefully now," said Uncle John, "the priest is going to baptize the baby."
The godmother stepped up to the font and held the baby's head over it. The godfather stood at her side and placed his hand on the infant as the priest told him to do.
Then the priest dipped a small shell into the font, filled it with baptismal water and poured the water over the child's head.
While pouring the water he said the following words carefully and clearly

"I baptize thee in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

Reduced size, pages 17, 18, showing "Visualization" and "Interest Motive" of "The Outward Sign of Grace in Baptism."

A WORD ABOUT THE AUTHORS

WILLIAM H. J. KENNEDY is at present Dean of The Teachers College of the City of Boston. He graduated from Harvard with the degree of A.B. in 1912; received the degree of A.M. from Boston College in 1922, and Ph.D. in 1925. He taught history for ten years at the nationally famed Boston Latin School. Summer and Extension lecturing on Education and Methods includes the School of Education, Boston College.

SISTER MARY JOSEPH is a member of the Order of St. Dominic, Caldwell, N. J. The Baccalaureate was conferred on Sister Mary Joseph by Sisters College of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., and having specialized in History, she was awarded the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. by Fordham University. Sister Mary Joseph has had extensive and actual experience teaching history in the grades, as well as in high school and novitiate classes and has given courses in history and methods of teaching history to Sisters at Summer Schools.

THEIR VIEWPOINTS

A WORD TO THE TEACHER. "America's Story" is a continuous narrative. The chronological arrangement has been followed, with emphasis on the biographical features. There is little uniformity as yet regarding material in history for the lower grades. Educators are not agreed in respect to the principles of selection and emphasis. In the preparation of this text we have been guided in the selection of material by the requirements of the current Diocesan Courses of Study in United States History. The text is so arranged as to lend itself to the use of any of the teaching methods in vogue.

The aim of this book is to prepare the child for an intelligent study of the advanced book. The pupils of the lower grade should not be expected to master the facts of a text-book. History in these grades should be regarded as a story full of action and interest. We have aimed to give due consideration to the contribution of the Church to the upbuilding of America. Our purpose is to offer texts which are Catholic in tone and character.

A teacher's manual is provided giving detailed suggestions for each chapter.

PREFACE TO PUPIL

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF OUR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS. This book has been written for you, to make you better acquainted with the discoverers, explorers, missionaries, martyrs, soldiers, inventors, and statesmen who have helped to make our country truly great.

The greatest care has been taken to show simply and clearly how the United States has grown from a few small settlements on the Atlantic coast into the greatest nation of the world.

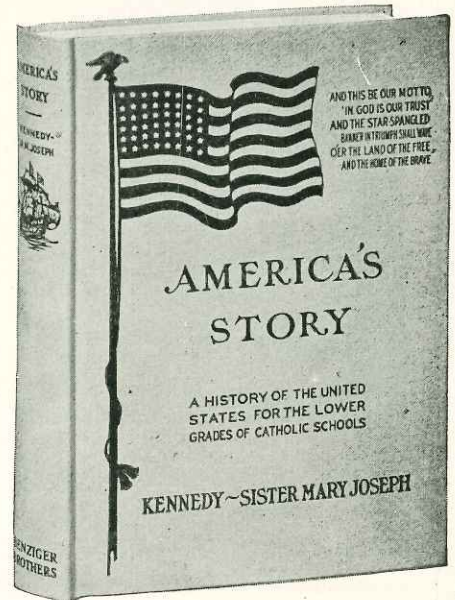

We want you to know the glorious part which Catholics have taken in the founding, freeing, establishing and developing of our country. Therefore we point this out to you in a special manner. The reasons for this are plain.

You boys and girls are Catholics. You are Americans. You are living in a time when more and greater chances are given you to serve your Country, than the Catholics of former days had. We trust you will not let these opportunities pass by without making good use of them.

It is our hope that the study of "America's Story" will increase your love for America, heighten your esteem for her heroes and her heroines and stimulate you to so serve your Country that all Americans may feel proud of their Catholic fellow citizens.

THE EDITORS.

The use of this text will instil in the students a realization of the glorious history of our Country and a better understanding of what the Catholic Faith has meant and means for America.

THE study of what is generally known as "The European Background of American History" in preparation for the pupil's more ready absorption of the study of his own Country, has now become part and parcel of many study courses in Catholic Parochial Schools. In "OLD WORLD FOUNDATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES" Catholic educators will find a textbook which not only presents the subject according to pedagogical requirements of today, but which at the same time, in making the connection between the past and the present, lays proper emphasis on those outstanding periods of European history, usually subject to so much misrepresentation.

The task of preparing this text book was approached by Mr. William H. J. Kennedy, Ph.D. (Dean, Teacher's College, Boston) and Sister Mary Joseph, O.S.D., Ph.D. (Supervisor of Schools, Sisters of St. Dominic, Caldwell, N. J.), already well known as the authors of two successful texts for Elementary Catholic Schools (America's Story and The United States), in that aforestated spirit and the character of the book, resulting from their labor, is herewith briefly set forth.

THE OBJECT: History is the story of civilization. The story of OLD-WORLD FOUNDATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES will show that our present civilization is the product of ages past. It will show how one nation, beginning with the Egyptians down to the settlement of America, grew out of another, how one influenced the other through the progress made in the mode of living, in architecture, drama and literature, even through their games and sports. It will show how the early settlers who came to America brought with them the manners and customs which had been passed on to them by their ancestors through hundreds, even through thousands of years. Thus, the story of our Country, discovered and settled by explorers and settlers from the Old World, begins long before the discovery of America by Columbus in 1492.

THE METHOD AND PRESENTATION. The story of OLD-WORLD FOUNDATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES goes back to the beginnings of civilization to see how our own ancestors and the ancestors of these settlers began the civilization that was passed from generation to generation until the time of Columbus. It does not take up the study of the story of peoples who have no relation to us, but only of peoples who have contributed many things to our own everyday life. It shows particularly how important a part the Catholic Church has played in all the branches of civilization. Proper treatment is given to the activities of the Church in the medieval period, really constituting the story of this era, and that will prevent any conception that this period can be justly called the "Dark Ages." The story is a fascinating and interesting one. We can see the explanation of many things that are important in our lives to-day, and we can from our study take an increased pride in our Church and what it has done for the world.

In a word, the story of the history of our Country from its first settlement to the present day will be more clearly understood by those who know the story of its "Old-World Foundations."

The Outstanding Features

It is written in a simple, fluent story style.

The history is accurate and fair. Its tone is characterized by firmness and dispassionate truth.

The various units are skillfully adjusted to bring out the effect of contributory, correlative and consequential factors at work in the different eras.

It ties up the past with the present in language and style easily understood by children.

The blending of the logical sequence of events permits pupil to trace related historical events through to their logical conclusion.

Summaries and Reviews throughout afford memory aids and tests and make transit easy from one topic to another.

A glossary of difficult words follows each chapter.

The appendix contains a list of important dates and a thorough alphabetical index.

HELPS FOR TEACHERS. A special edition called "Teacher's Manual Edition," containing methods of approach, and rich in suggestions detailed for each chapter, such as Topics for oral or written reports; Map work; Constructive work; Notebook exercise; Readings for teachers and pupils; Dramatization; a specimen of True-False, Completion, and Matching Tests, etc., is provided for the convenience of the teacher.

WHY HIDE OUR LIGHT UNDER A BUSHEL?

HOW CAN WE PLANT THE SEED OF SELF-CONFIDENCE IN THE YOUNG AND PREPARE THEM FOR CIVIC ASSERTIVENESS AS THE DEFENDERS OF COUNTRY, CHURCH AND HOME?

Should we not, besides teaching religion through the catechism and related studies use our opportunities when presenting essentials of profane history likewise STIMULATE IMITATION OF OUR COURAGEOUS CATHOLIC FOREFATHERS AND INSTILL INTO THE GENERATION OF TODAY A GREATER APPRECIATION OF THE CATHOLIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE PAST laying the foundation for SELF-CONFIDENCE so that when they reach maturity they must qualify not only as STURDY CITIZENS but also as SUPPORTERS OF TRUE CATHOLIC PRINCIPLES WORKING FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE INTEGRITY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY, keeping INVIOLEATE THE SACRED RIGHTS OF CHURCH, SCHOOL, FAMILY AND HOME, and thus "do their bit" in averting the menace of such internal national disorders threatening the existence of entire nations at the present time?

To help in carrying out this objective, you will find admirable material in "THE UNITED STATES."

THEIR VIEWPOINTS

A WORD TO THE TEACHER:

The United States attempts so to tell the story of our country that the pupil will acquire the background upon which good citizenship can be built. In the preparation of the work we have been guided by the current diocesan courses of study in history. The text gives proper emphasis to the part played by Catholics in the building of our country. The Foreword, "I Am Proud of My Faith," summarizes some of their achievements and indicates the tone we have tried to instill into the work.

The text is organized around the large units indicated by the various divisions. Within these divisions titles of chapters indicate subdivisions of the larger problem. The material is so arranged that it can be used in connection with any of the current methods of teaching history.

A teachers' manual is provided, giving detailed suggestions for the treatment of each chapter.—THE EDITORS.

PREFACE TO PUPIL

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF OUR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS:

Everyone likes to read story-books. Stories are of many kinds. This book tells a story. It is the story of the growth of our country from the wilderness of the time of Columbus to our great country of to-day. It tells of deeds as heroic and as adventuresome as those in any book you have ever read. The story of the growth of our country is as marvelous and as wonderful as any fairy story. Reading this story of our country makes it possible to understand better the world in which we live to-day. We can find out what was achieved by those who have helped build our country, and what must be our part to keep our country truly great.

In addition to these very important considerations, we can learn what the members of our own Catholic Faith have contributed to the growth of our country, and what pride we ought to feel in their achievements, because in the days to come you boys and girls will be the ones to carry on their work.

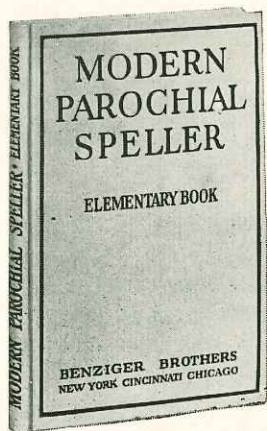

The story in this book, we hope, will inspire you to resolve that you will so do your part in being a good citizen that your country and your Church will be proud of you.—THE EDITORS.

CONTENT BASED ON SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION

The theory underlying the content of the series is that the greatest single determining factor in the vocabulary of a spelling book is the need of the child to use the selected words in his written work. It is assumed that his experience in school will be rich and varied enough in the course of eight years to call for the writing of material of live, human interest. If such is the case, and if he has been properly taught, there is little need of anxiety about his spelling ability as an adult. The words commonly misspelled by adults, investigations have shown, are those which children have occasion to write before they enter high school.

To determine this vocabulary, the authors have made a careful check of the following scientific studies:

Anderson, W. N.—Determination of a Vocabulary Based on Written Correspondence. (List of 3105 words) 3000 of these are included in this Speller.

Ayres, L. P.—A Measuring Scale for Ability in Spelling. (List of 1000 words most commonly used in writing.) All these words are in this Speller.

Horn, Ernest—3000 Words of Commonwealth List. (This appears in the Fourth Year Book of the Department of Superintendence N. E. A., February, 1926, as part of the report of the National Subject Committee on Curriculum-Spelling.) All these words, except simple derived forms, appear in this Speller.

Jones, W. F.—Concrete Investigation of the Material of English Spelling. (List of 4532 words used in themes of children.) This Speller contains the words of the Jones list which are common to three lists mentioned later.

Pryor, H. C.—A Suggested Minimal Spelling List. (1309 words scientifically selected from previous investigations.) 1300 of these words are included in this Speller.

Tidyman, W. E.—The Teaching of Spelling. (Minimum list of words.) All these words are in this Speller.

Catholic School List—(A list of 6973 words compiled as the result of an analysis of compositions written in grades two to eight, inclusive, in parochial schools in various localities.) The subject matter in these compositions covered Church History, stories from the Bible, and answers to catechism questions, as well as compositions on the following topics.

A Wish That Came True.
Watching a Bird (Spider, etc.).
How I Learned to Drive.
My First Day in a New School.
How I Choose a Book.
My First Ride on a Train.
A Trick I Taught My Dog.
How We Played Store.
Fun at a Picnic.
A Joke on Me.
Why I Had to Remain After School.
My Saturday Job.

METHOD

1. Teach first; test last.
2. Teach very few words a day. Not more than two in second grade, three in third and fourth and five in grades 5, 6, 7 and 8.
3. Note the difficult words and review them frequently.
4. Give review tests regularly after the lapse of a definite period—two weeks or a month—to check up on retention.
5. Find on Monday, by a preliminary dictation of the words for the week, which words need especial attention. It may be that some can be omitted. See to it that each child keeps a list of words difficult for him. See that he reduces the list.
6. Develop in the pupils the habit of making sure that they have spelled all words correctly in all written work before submitting it to the teacher. (It should not be necessary for the teacher to point out to the pupil mistakes which he himself can discover, or better still, avoid.) Provision will be made for making this ability possible.
7. Help the pupils to economical and effective habits of study. (Definite suggestions will be made as to how to do this.)
8. Do not teach homonyms together. A child will never confuse "way" and "weigh" if these words are taught independently. Much of the confusion over "to," "two" and "too" has come as a result of the attempt of teachers to teach all three in the same lesson.

The Book—

In four sections and 56 chapters, with a carefully developed alphabetical index for ready reference and a bibliography for extended reading, this book presents to all Catholic Teachers, but especially to Religious, a wealth of practical material on the subject of Education in all its phases—theoretical, practical and personal.

The Author—

Rev. Felix M. Kirsch, O. M. Cap., Rector of Capuchin College, is a well-known lecturer and writer on educational subjects, whose frequent contributions to the various magazines are well received. His splendid English translation of Willman's masterly work, "The Science of Education" (2 vols.) was hailed as a particularly fine achievement. Father Kirsch is secretary of the Franciscan Educational Conference, Editor-in-Chief of Franciscan Studies and secretary of the College Department of the Catholic Educational Association, in the conventions of which he has taken a prominent part.

Isabel C. Clarke's Great Novels

Isabel C. Clarke's leadership among Catholic novelists cannot seriously be questioned. Her characterization, her resourcefulness, above all the sure mastery of technique she displays, have compelled the reluctant admiration even of non-Catholic critics.

With success in the secular field assured her, she has nevertheless recognized an apostolate and brought into each of her books something of the truth and beauty of the Church.

"The greatest living Catholic novelist."—Father Finn.

"Are they on the shelves of your public or parish library?"—"The Messenger of the Sacred Heart."

"If a non-Catholic woman wrote with Miss Clarke's skill, the novels would probably be best sellers."—America.

"Her novels deserve to be well known and widely read."—Agnes Repplier.

"Her shelf of novels, the tout ensemble of her achievement, is an Odyssey of romantic literature."—Michael Earls, S.J.

ISABEL C. CLARKE'S NEW NOVEL

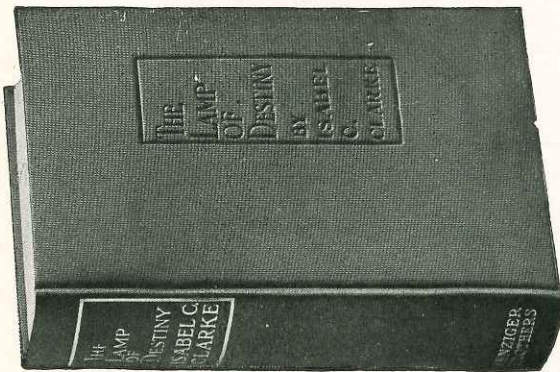

The Lamp of Destiny

BY
ISABEL C. CLARKE

8vo, cloth, net, $2.50; postage, 15 cents.

LIFE had been pleasant and tranquil at Royal Dean for Mr. and Mrs. Jayne until that forlorn orphaned waif, Irene, had been thrust into their midst. Moved by a momentary sentiment of thanksgiving, Mrs. Jayne had half-heartedly given her assent to her husband's imprudent and eager adoption of mutual survivors of the wreck of the Lanka off the Adriatic coast. Nothing was known at the time, of the child's antecedents, so Mrs. Jayne, a pupil of the old school, hoped for the worst and fanned that hope until it became an actual obsession of hatred.

Mr. Oliver Jayne, on the contrary, was a zealous optimist, and an exponent of advanced pedagogical research. Here indeed was a providential object for practical experimentation with his years of theoretical pronouncements. With strong, strokes of her experienced pen Miss Clarke has unfolded this powerful drama which is as stirring as it is gripping. How Alan, a great-nephew, enters upon the scene and develops a friendship with Irene which ripens into a courtship, and how Mrs. Jayne, now Lady Jayne, employs every device at her command to thwart the meeting of the two lovers in order to prevent their marriage, is told with consummate artistry. Does the marriage take place?

For Every Lover of Irish Liberty and Heroism

THE PATRIOTS

By REV. JOSEPH CANON GUINAN

WITH PREFACE BY HIS GRACE

MOST REV. MICHAEL J. CURLEY, D.D.
Archbishop of Baltimore

The recent history of Ireland from the Easter Rebellion of 1916 to date

"A Novel That Is History" (Quotation from Archbishop Curley's Preface)

8vo, cloth, illustrated jacket, net, $2.50. Postage, 15 cents.

SINCE the days of Canon Sheehan there has perhaps been no more outstanding delineator of Irish rural life than Canon Guinan. In fact, of one of his recent books the Catholic Weekly declared that "it is the most remarkable book of its kind since 'My New Curate'." His admirable descriptive powers, sympathetic understanding of the Irish character as well as vigorous and varied diction eminently fit him therefore to mould in the form of a novel the recent history of Ireland from the Easter Rebellion of 1916 to the present day.

Taking the town of Drumnara as a setting, he presents with the accuracy of an eye-witness vivid and poignant scenes of that futile Rising that nevertheless was the beginning of the end of British ascendancy in Ireland. He gives close-ups of the pathetic scenes caused by Black-and-Tan excesses—broken homes, ruthless searches, wanton murders. Stalking across the whole story in heroic size, however, are those glorious figures of the Rebellion—Mangan, Dunford, Donnellan and McGarry the blacksmith of Croshen—whose apparent omnipresence and stentorian battlecry "Up, McGarry!" strike terror in the hearts of his opponents. The delightful old parish priest and his youthful and impulsive curate by their dispassionate discussions of affairs bring out the moral side of the case, while plentiful humor is supplied by the local characters of the town. It will reveal a new aspect of the Irish question.

The Most Popular Stories for

PERCY WYNN; or, Making a Boy of Him.
An account of the development of a "mamma's darling" into a real boy. Some boys will laugh at Percy at first, but as they will read on they will appreciate him and find that he combines all the qualities they admire, fidelity to faith and friend, true courage and manliness, a spirit to endure all and bear all for the sake of right and justice. A tale that every boy should read, and he will be very much the better for having read.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

TOM PLAYFAIR; or, Making a Start.
A more realistic picture of the new arrival at college has rarely, if ever, been drawn. Subsequent incidents in the hero's college life are described with the same skill, while in tendency they are such as to leave in the plastic minds of youthful readers impressions of a most ennobling character. The author's style is charming and the skilfully woven characters are true to life. The book, too, sparkles with boyish fun.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

HARRY DEE; or, Working It Out.
Another narrative of Catholic college life. Replete with stirring incidents, it is never dull, and holds a thrilling plot. From the horrors of a haunted house to the innocent pleasures of college life and from Latin grammar to baseball, even the soberest mind will follow the upright Harry and his sterling schoolfellows.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT; or, How the Problem Was Solved.
A tale of a college boy full of mischief and fun, but always honorable. This book not only amuses, but will be an inspiration for higher aims. Claude's sister Kate who is ever ready to help him out of his childish scrapes, is always the good angel at his side.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

ETHELRED PRESTON; or, The Adventures of a Newcomer.
A story of adventure, heroism and ideals—a good combination. The young gentleman who fills the title role is a genuine "newcomer." His arrival at Henryton College brings about a series of amusing escapades. Yet there is a deep undercurrent of manly piety running through the whole.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

SUNSHINE AND FRECKLES.
Tells of a collegian who goes to Florida to take charge of a public school. We hear a great deal of the real estate boom, and of the attitude of the Ku Klux Klan towards Catholics.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

CANDLES' BEAMS.
Six of Father Finn's shorter stories are gathered here. From each shines the candle of some high deed. The scenes are colorful and varied: the Mississippi Valley, a Cincinnati tenement, an island in British Honduras; each one has a distinct beam of its own.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

HIS FIRST AND LAST APPEARANCE.
The hero of the story is Philip, who has "the gift of song." His trials and triumphs are told in a way to inspire the youthful mind with courage and ambition. The book is thoroughly American in spirit, proving the possibilities of opportunity in this country.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

FACING DANGER.
Talk about excitement and adventure—there's plenty of it in this story.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

BOBBY IN MOVIELAND.
Bobby Vernon, the hero, is a distinctly new type. His many and varied adventures, as he wins his way upward on the ladder of movie fame, make absorbing reading for everyone.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

BUT THY LOVE AND THY GRACE.
A pathetic tale of heroic unselfishness from every day life, centering about a diamond ring. Who won it and what it brought is left to the reader to find out.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

AMERICAN CATHOLIC BOY"

NN'S STORIES

the American Catholic Boy

THAT FOOTBALL GAME; and What Came Of It.
The narrative is written around a football game, in which Claude Lightfoot is the captain of "our" team. There is a pure, healthy, vigorous tone about the book that is decidedly refreshing when we compare it with the milk and water stuff so often met with in books for boys.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

THAT OFFICE BOY.
A breezy narrative of parish activities and a popularity contest for a grand piano. Michael, the "office boy" is an old friend. We are not surprised to see how finely he has developed as the hero of a tale all about himself. The story hinges upon a popularity contest conducted by an enterprising newspaper. The rival contestants are a sodality and a club. Michael is the strategist who wins for the sodality. The way he does it is admirably told. There is humor and pathos and many a lesson.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

CUPID OF CAMPION.
The story is healthy and thrilling and breathes the air of romance. Its scenery—the upper Mississippi and the neighborhood about Prairie du Chien, where Father Finn spent three successive summers—has given the author's pen new inspiration. Adventure, wit, humor are in "Cupid of Campion," as in the author's other books, but raised to a new plane of romance. There is a hero, of course, and a most lovable heroine.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

THE FAIRY OF THE SNOWS.
A story of life among the poor. The heroine is Alice Morrow, a child with a heart as fair as the budding spring. She is an original little girl and the episodes of her life amid the city's tenements are filled with an abounding humor, sympathy, and pathos.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

THE BEST FOOT FORWARD; and Other Stories.
In these five stories of college life, Father Finn makes us acquainted with some new personages, whom incidentally, he introduces into several delightfully amusing scenes.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

MOSTLY BOYS. Short Stories.
A collection of tales about real boys in every walk of life. They are redolent of the breezy spirit of healthy, jovial boyhood, and permeated with the author's best brand of humor.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

BUT THY LOVE AND THY GRACE.
The sweet and sympathetic story of a factory girl whose unselfishness is her shield against adversity. Faithful pictures of the activities of a typical parish, with an occasional touch of rich humor and a consistently maintained interest.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

LUCKY BOB.
Bob is virtually thrown into life. Cast off by his father he is told that he must make his own way in the world. And he does—most efficiently. The account of his adventures while doing it makes a most absorbing and edifying tale.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

HIS LUCKIEST YEAR.
The mystery surrounding Bob's parentage is cleared up in the new story. During his exciting and plucky career in Cincinnati the charming friends he made in his early adventures are not forgotten. In the end they all converge to their original starting-point on the banks of the Mississippi.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

ON THE RUN.
An exciting story of the adventures of an American boy in Ireland during present times. Graphically picturing conditions and stirring scenes, it is told with all of Father Finn's kindly sympathy, pathos and humor and will be of absorbing interest both to young and old.
Price $1.25 net. Postage 10c. extra.

CANDLES' BEAMS SHORT STORIES

By FRANCIS J. FINN, S.J.

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.25. Postage, 10 cents.

SIX of Father Finn's shorter stories are gathered here. From each shines the candle of some high deed. The scenes are colorful and varied: the Mississippi Valley, a Cincinnati tenement, the fashionable suburbs of St. Louis, an island in British Honduras—and each one has a distinct beam of its own.

Content: "The Candle's Beam" tells how a dying priest saved a soul fifteen years after his death; "Roughneck" is the story of a young thief whom trust makes honest; "A Point of Honor" shows a dishonorable act as the means of restoration to an honorable outlook; "Round Christmas Footlights" brings about the reconciliation of two hard business men and their young sons; "Quick Action" gains two treasures, one valuable, the other worthless; "Ada Merton" effects many conversions by her supreme sacrifice.

No one should neglect reading this, the twenty-first book by Father Finn who is, according to the late Maurice Francis Egan, "The first of all writers for Catholic children in the English-speaking world."

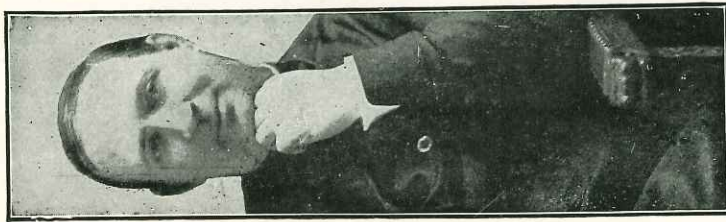

A complete set of Father Finn is essential to a well managed school or parish library; it is the ideal gift for children. We carry all titles in stock and can make immediate delivery.

CLASSICS

These two books deserve to be called classics. Not, of course, that they are hardy literary relics of a past age. Mary Selwyn is a very modern American girl, and Uncle Frank is as up to date as he is lovable. But since these were published so very many girls have read Mary's story, and laughed and cried with her, that the unfortunate little miss who hasn't read them is like the grown-ups who don't know Dickens. Her education has been neglected in a highly important branch.

UNCLE FRANK'S MARY

By SISTER CLEMENTIA

12mo. Frontispiece. Net, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL REVIEW

"Little Mary, and much littler Berta, are delightful creations—types of sound goodness which English-reading youth will be the better for having met; while Uncle Frank is a whole-souled character, big and generous and kindly—the sort of a man children instinctively love. All the personages are well drawn. They are natural and move naturally through the plot and scenes. There is plenty of 'action'; the interest never flags, for there is always something doing and something suspended ahead. And yet all is symmetrical, well balanced, and the spirit is true, sincere, wholesome, but not goody-goody."

FATHER FINN

"If she does not find her way into the hearts of thousands and thousands of girls throughout the land, it is because Catholic parents may not have had their attention brought to a book which is, if I know anything about the devout female sex, just the sort that will appeal to girls of from twelve to seventeen years of age."

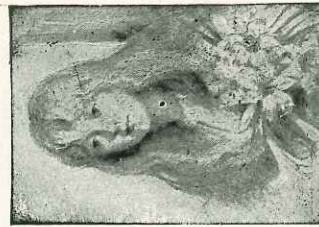

THE QUEST OF MARY SELWYN

AVE MARIA

"Once in a while—a long while more often than not—a reviewer discovers among the books piled on his desk a volume which proves on perusal to be a genuine find, a work exceptionally good in the class to which it belongs, and just such a find is 'Uncle Frank's Mary.' It is full of thoughtful interest; there is abundance of action, excellent character drawing, charming dialogue, wonderful plot developments, and a host of delightful personages, besides the lovable little heroine."

SCHOONER AHOY!

HOLY CROSS BOYS WITH THE CAPE COD FISHING FLEET

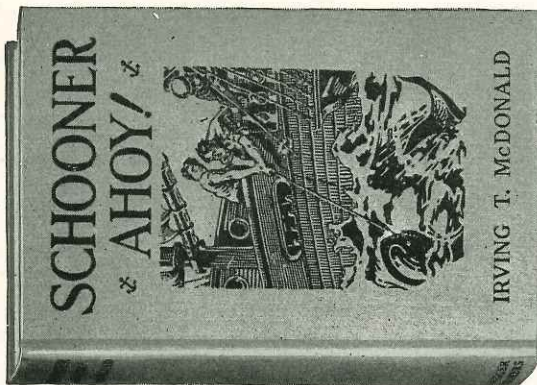

By IRVING T. McDONALD

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

IN THIS book Andy Carroll and his friends go down through Provincetown on their vacation. When they get there an auto accident and a strange set of circumstances make it their duty to go out to sea. In a little dory they get lost in a fog and they also meet the dreaded fog-ghost that haunts the waters of Provincetown.

You'll be as thrilled as Gus was with the shark episode. And you, no more than the Holy Cross boys, will be able to resist the appeal of the little waif, Mugsy. Of course there is a mystery handled as cleverly as the one in Irving T. McDonald's former book. The effervescence and fun of "Hoi-ah!" also are here with even more thrills and greater adventure.

Father Finn in St. Xavier Calendar when reading of an announcement of "Schooner Ahoy!" writes, "If it is almost as good as 'Hoi-ah!' it will be a great success; if it is as good, it will be amazing; if it is better, it will be a miracle. Mr. McDonald has the gift of writing for the young." Of course one doesn't like to boast of miracles but—

HOI-AH! ANDY CARROLL'S FIRST YEAR AT HOLY CROSS

By IRVING T. McDONALD

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents.

"Plenty of adventure."—Springfield Union.
"A real boys' story for real boys."—Rosary Magazine.
"A capital story . . . crammed with delightful adventures . . . rollicking youthful humor."—Daily American Tribune.
"Gives a generous glimpse at the life of the modern college student in a Catholic atmosphere . . . the final impression is a desire for more."—Catholic Mirror.
"The boy reader will meet heroes after his own heart. Adults will glean from the story something of the beauty and grandeur of education in a Catholic atmosphere."—America.
"Some vivid pictures of life at the well-known Eastern Catholic institution . . . an excellent and well told story, wholesome, humorous, edifying. Boys will be sure to like Mr. McDonald's narrative."—Ave Maria.
"Brimful of action, typical of Holy Cross, with real background, true in detail."—The Pilot.
"School librarians will make no mistake in placing 'Hoi-ah!' on their bookshelves. . . . Undoubtedly the best phase of the book is the picture of life in college—a picture that ought to be placed before the eyes of many of our Catholic young men who believe the large universities are the only higher schools worth while."—Tridings.
"When I read 'Hoi-ah!' I gave three rousing cheers. . . . The story gave me several thrills. . . . It is a whale of a book."—Father Finn.

Mississippi's Blackrobe

A STORY OF FATHER MARQUETTE

BY

NEIL BOYTON, S.J.

12mo, Cloth, with Frontispiece. Net, $1.25. Postage, 10c.

HE has done it again—written another rip-roaring Indian story concerning the adventures of one of our Big-League Missionaries. And what nerve-wracking soul-stirring adventures they are! Father Marquette and Louis Joliet and his little band paddling down the Great Water (the Mississippi), when suddenly the air is filled with weird shouts and hundreds of Indians appear on all sides with tomahawks and arrows poised—and this not once only, but all along the voyage of exploration. Every boy will devour this story, especially when the Indian dog "No Flesh" is involved, and where that brave little Indian boy "Crow Dog" describes the games played by Indian boys and relates the legends and customs of his tribe. Besides this the missionary party visits the Illinois, the Peorias, the Mitchigameas and other tribes; witnesses a band of Chickasaws raiding and burning a village; and a tribe of Tuscaroras hunting and slaughtering a herd of five hundred buffaloes. We can well imagine a new crop of nicknames following the reading of this book. If you have liked it, don't fail to read "Mangled Hands," a companion volume.

Miss Specking again delights feminine readers with—

MARTHA JANE AT COLLEGE

By INEZ SPECKING

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.50.
Postage, 10 cents.

THE lively heroine of "Martha Jane" is a little older and a shade more sedate but not yet above such mischievous pranks as the "decorating" of the cook-sister's cat or making fudge—and such fudge—in the biology "lab." And what other girl but she would write only "April Fool" on an exam paper and get such results? A more serious side of Martha Jane, a Martha Jane vitally interested in foreign missions and orphans of all colors, is introduced. But, of course, she still has her good times and is planning more with Europe straight ahead as her vacation-land.

Her first year at Fontbonne has all the pace of her academy years, and it has the same historian, the admiring, and not so prim, Peggy. Most assuredly, Inez Specking not only knows and understands girls, but she can write the kind of books they'll read and like.

"If you have not made the acquaintance of Inez Specking as an entertainer for your girls you have thus far missed something."—New World.

MARY ROSE, GRADUATE

By MARY MABEL WIRRIES

Author of "Mary Rose at Boarding School," etc.

12mo. Cloth. With frontispiece. Net, $1.00. Postage, 10 cents.

MARY ROSE'S many girl friends will be delighted to learn that she has been graduated from St. Angela's Academy with highest honors. For details consult Mary Mabel Wirries' excellent account of Posey's senior year in "Mary Rose, Graduate."

In it she reforms a snob and captures a burglar. The divine fire of her ardent faith causes her to effect two conversions and save a dying baby. When her father is ill and when Bride Malone is in danger Mary Rose's spirit of self-sacrifice, always evident, rises to its greatest heights.

But life is not all seriousness even when one is a dignified senior. Witness Friday Duck, the photograph episode, or Mary Rose as drummer in the class orchestra. Neither has her high position caused her to cease writing her catchy jingles. And if you were Mary Rose and Tim Malone had made such a delightful threat would you decide to remind him of it in case he forgot when the three years were up?

BOOKS ON RELIGION

LIFE OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN. Adapted from the original of Rev. B. Rohner, O.S.B., by Rev. Richard Brennan, LL.D. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c

"The Life of the Blessed Virgin is meant rather for the devout and pious reader than for the theologian and controversialist. It is characterized by sobriety and solidity and is free from empty sentimentality. There is nothing of the exaggerated or unreal in its tone. It is full also of instruction in practical matters, and thus serves a two-fold purpose, placing before the reader the life of the Mother of God and in so doing indicating to him the way in which his life should be made conformable to hers."—Catholic World.

SPIRITUAL CONSIDERATIONS. By Rev. H. Reginald Buckler, O.P. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c.

This book is a gem, containing as it does the lives of many eminent Saints, told briefly and attractively and arranged for daily reading.

"This volume offers in compendious form the lives of many eminent servants of God, with reflections, forming as it were, a book of daily meditations. There is no better book for fostering a spirit of piety, and this edition surely ought to be in every Catholic family. It must prove a welcome volume to both laity and religious."—Messenger of the Sacred Heart.

HISTORY OF THE PROTESTANT REFORMATION IN ENGLAND AND IRELAND. Written in 1824-1827 by William Cobbett. Revised with Notes and Preface by Francis Aidan Gasquet, D.D., O.S.B. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c.

A vigorous and graphic picture of the revolution, social as well as religious, which is known as the Protestant Reformation.

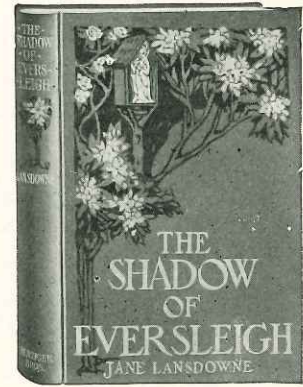

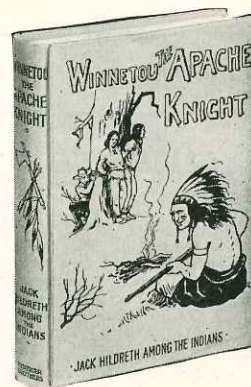

DION AND THE SIBYLS. By Miles Keon. 12mo. Net $1.00. Postage 10c.

"This book appeals to the same level of intelligence as the famous 'Ben Hur' appeals to. It presents the same grasp of situation in the pagan world When Christianity was struggling in its swaddling clothes."—Catholic World.

THE HEIRESS OF CRONENSTEIN. By Countess Hahn-Hahn. Adapted from the German by Mary H. Allies. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c.

"An exquisite story of life and love, showing the penalties attached to any departure from the Catholic ideal. It is pregnant with the sorrows and joys, the mistakes, the success and failure, the strength and weakness and struggles which give to the most unpretentious human existence its sustained interest and compelling pathos."—Freeman's Journal.

WINNETOU, THE APACHE KNIGHT. By Marion Ames Taggart. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c.

Further adventures of Jack Hildreth, who goes West and meets Winnetou, the great Indian chief, under tragic circumstances.

THE SHADOW OF EVERSLEIGH. By Jane Lansdowne. 12mo. Net, $1.00. Postage 10c.

"It is a weird tale, blending not a little of the supernatural with various stirring and exciting incidents whose period is the perturbed one succeeding the Restoration and the working of the villainy contrived by Titus Oates and his accomplices under the pretense that there was on foot in England and Ireland a Popish plot."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Spread Happiness in the Home

THE TEACHINGS OF THE LITTLE FLOWER

By REV. EDWARD F. GARESCHE, S.J.

Author of "Sodality Conferences," etc.

Net, $1.50

Father Garesche lately returned from the scenes of St. Theresa's childhood and with conversations with sisters of the Saint fresh in mind, has found a new phase of her life that has not been sufficiently emphasized. He writes, therefore, in a manner that carries conviction and with a graphic style that makes us relive the scenes described.

It was the home life of the Little Flower that laid the foundation for that mighty superstructure of sanctity that followed, and it is this home spirit that the author stresses in these pages, interpreting St. Theresa's words to us and making a practical application of them to our own lives. This is a book that every father and mother should read, for by following out the lessons instilled, a greater spirit of happiness will permeate the home, and the children will take no small part in affecting this.

The Holy Family's Home Life

IN THE WORKSHOP OF ST. JOSEPH

By HERMAN J. HEUSER, DD.

Author of "Autobiography of an Old Breviary"

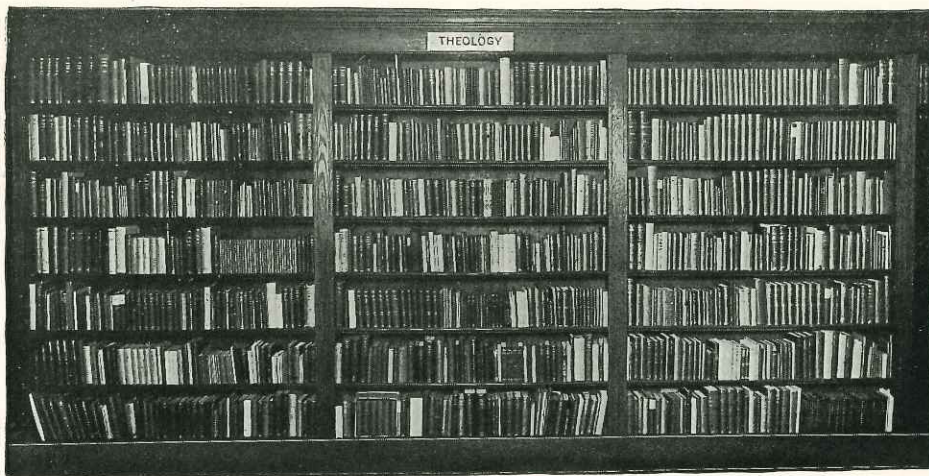

Illustrated from Old Engravings. Cloth. 8vo. Net, $1.75. Postage, 15 cents.

The learned and genial Doctor Heuser introduces the reader reverently to the Holy Family on its way back from Egypt. Gently drawing aside the veil of the Hidden Life, he lets us mingle with the people of the time. We go into Joseph's workshop, and are awed by the deep respect the neighbors show to the Family, whose sanctity gleams persistently through its humility. We follow Mary, carrying her Child to bless with healing benediction a dying infant. We watch Joseph toiling in the temple, an honor due to his royal descent. The book is an accurate transcription of the life and customs of the period.

The Ordination of the First Deacons of the Church

THE SYMBOLISM OF THE ALTAR

THE precise symbolism of the Altar, says Father O'Brien in his "History of the Mass" is that it denotes Christ Our Lord, which is in agreement with what St. Paul says in his first epistle to the Corinthians, "They drank of the Spiritual rock which followed them, and the rock was Christ" and according to the Venerable Bede, the Altar is the body of Christ. Thus also the Abbe Durand in his work treating of ceremonies, observes that the Church has made of the Altar a figure of Christ, Whom she calls in her liturgy "The Altar of God."

Possessing, therefore, such divinely symbolic significance, "the Altar very appropriately should be of stone, even if possible be made of precious stones," the Rev. Dr. Gihl remarks in his book "The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." Thus also Father Albert Kuhn, O.S.B., the famous esthetician, in his monumental "History of Art" expresses the opinion that it is becoming to the exalted dignity of the Sacrificial Table that the Altar be built of precious stones.

The realization of the Church's intentions in regard to the decorative embellishments of her temples on strictly ecclesiastical and artistic lines and in a special manner the enrichment of the sanctuary with an Altar carved either from the inimitably rich and virginally pure Carrara Marbles, or from the delicately tinted Veneto, Botticino, Tavernelle or other colored Italian Marbles, has been made possible by means of greatly perfected methods and thus been brought within the easy economic reach of most parishes.

PATERSON, N. J.

Benziger Bros.
Barclay St.
New York, N.Y.

Gentlemen:

The purpose of this letter is to express the appreciation of the pastor and congregation of Our Lady of Lourdes for the exquisite execution of the marble altars, communion rail, and the baptismal font.

It is in the deepest and most beautiful sense a memorial that will fittingly and enduringly serve its sacred purpose.

Evidenced by all who have seen the work, I must say that they are most expressive in their praise as being a work of art, most unique and graceful.

With most cordial thanks, and every good wish for your continued success in this distinctive work. I beg to remain.

Most cordially Yours.

Joseph Van Zelle, Rector

WE pride ourselves on never having designed or executed marble furnishings that are not suited to the church or chapel in which they are installed. Where the budget is limited we are able, because of our long experience and able staff of designers, to offer a dignified altar of correct style and proportions at a surprisingly reasonable price.

BENZIGER BROTHERS

DESIRABLE MARBLES FOR ALTARS

CARRARA MARBLES

Various grades and shades of White Carrara Marbles are used (often with inlays of Venetian Mosaic and Colored marbles) from the creamish White Statuary through the Bianco Puro field to the least expensive of the White Italian marbles suitable for altars and statues, the bluish white Bianco Chiaro with its dark veining.

CREAM AND TAN COLORED MARBLE ALTARS

An ever increasing percentage of altars executed by us are from marbles not basically white. Among these are the well-known Botticino, in its many shades, the somewhat similar Rose Tavernelle, with its delicate suggestion of color, the fine textured Crema Tenere (Veneto) which lends itself so well to fine carving and dull polished finish.

RICHLY COLORED ITALIAN MARBLES

Richly veined white marbles—the many colors of Breccias—Paonazzo—Red Veronas, Yellow Verona and Sienna, Verde Alps, Red Numidian, Porta Santa, Black and Gold.

COLORED MARBLES FROM OTHER PARTS OF EUROPE

Swiss, Cippolino, African Onyx—are often used by us to get just the right color scheme.

VENETIAN AND FLORENTINE MOSAICS

We have executed some of the finest Venetian and Florentine Mosaic Stations of the Cross, altar pieces and wall mosaics that have been installed in churches in this country. We employ only the most able and experienced mosaic artists to execute work from our designs or those of your architect.

SUGGESTIONS WHEN CONTEMPLATING BUYING ALTARS

The most artistic altars are often not of the most expensive marbles. Our experience and knowledge of the correct use of white and colored marbles in creating our designs, often gives to a church a beautiful altar at the price of an altar of less artistic value.

WHEN YOU ARE BUILDING A NEW CHURCH OR REPLACING AN OLD ALTAR

You will find it to your advantage to consult with a representative of our Marble Department just as soon as your building or alteration plans have been determined upon. This gives our artists ample time to offer several suggestions at varying prices.

WHAT WE DO

We go thoroughly into the style and physical dimensions of your building and create designs that are exactly suited to the requirements of the building. If you have a budget we will propose something that will be absolutely correct, even though simple, to keep within this budget.

COST OF MARBLE ALTARS

We often find that our price on the proposed marble work is lower than the budget set aside. In such cases we will not make our designs over-ornate or too large, but offer the most artistic altar possible with no attempt to add unnecessary marble or ornamentation.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

Executing all marble work in our own Studios in Pietrasanta, Carrara, Italy, importing it free of duty and erecting it in your church by our own expert marble setters, assures you that the entire responsibility rests with one concern and as well guarantees to you the lowest possible price for the most artistic work and the best qualities of marble for your particular job.
